Kennan Recall Demand Rejected

—100,000 Greet Ike At San Francisco—

Eisenhower Asks Step-Up In Cold War

Free World Fell Into Trap By Agreeing To Peace Talks In Korea, General Says

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower Wednesday night told a roaring San Francisco crowd of 23,000 the U. S. must step up the "cold war" against the Reds and said the Korean truce talks were a "Soviet trap."

The Republican presidential candidate also bitterly attacked President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson as he topped off his first day of campaigning in California with a major foreign policy address before a jam-packed audience in the Cow Palace.

The big crowd roared its approval as Ike struck back at the Democratic leaders for asserting he joined the chiefs of staff in 1947 in advising that U. S. troops be withdrawn from Korea.

Eisenhower declared angrily that the chiefs of staff were judging the matter from a strictly military viewpoint and said he did not anticipate that three years later the secretary of state would make public "to a potential enemy" the decision that Korea was of little strategic interest to the U. S.

The crowd—the largest Eisenhower has spoken to since his nomination—cheered wildly when the GOP candidate began his address by paying high praise to his running mate, California Sen. Richard Nixon.

Cow Palace Packed

The general's two-day invasion of California was his first appearance in the state since the controversy over Nixon's expense fund.

The crowd filled San Francisco's Cow Palace virtually to the rafters. Police estimated that 23,000 persons were listening to the GOP candidate in a building with a listed capacity of 16,000.

When Eisenhower arrived in San Francisco he received the applause of more than 100,000 persons who gave him the most tumultuous demonstration he has received anywhere in the nation.

The big throng turned the downtown district into near bedlam as it showered the general with a blizzard of confetti and greeted him with roaring cheers of "We like Ike."

The general told Wednesday night's crowd that the only way to win peace is for the United States to wage the cold war with "all means short of war."

He said the United Nations has been "swindled" by the Russians by carrying on Korean peace negotiations while the Communists built up their strength until they are probably "half again as strong" as when the truce talks began.

Calls It A Bear Pit

The former five-star general declared:

"The Soviet trap was perfectly conceived, perfectly timed, perfectly sprung. For 15 months now free world diplomacy has been trying to climb the walls of the bear pit into which it fell."

Eisenhower also teed off again on President Truman for his charges that Ike advised in 1945 that Russia wanted to live in "friendship" with the U. S. and joined in the 1947 decision to exclude Korea from the nation's "defense perimeter" in the Pacific.

Referring to Mr. Truman as the "always - right-and-never - wrong chief of the party now in power,"

Higher Fare Asked By City Lines

Token's Return Would Cost Adults 2½ Cents

The Lincoln City Lines filed application with the State Railway Commission Wednesday for a rate increase through a return of the token-fare system.

Proposed rates, bringing a 2½ cent increase per fare from adults and a half-cent per fare decrease from students—if tokens are used—are asked to partially offset "a steady drop in rrevenue passengers," said D. W. Barratt, regional manager for the City Lines.

"We feel that it is impossible to cut service any more," said Barratt, "without having a detrimental affect on patrons.

'Low In Comparison'

"Even at the new rate," he added, "our fares will be considered low compared with other cities."

In spite of recent changes, listed as some reductions in service and a reduction in occupation tax, "we have to have further relief," Barratt said.

From 1950 to 1951, revenue passengers decreased 10 per cent, according to Barratt, and from 1951 to 1952 revenue passengers decreased 12½ per cent.

Reasons for the decrease, accordingto Barratt, is competition with the automobile, television and outdoor theaters. He said night travel by bus was especially affected by TV. People aren't leaving home as much for entertainment, Barratt said.

Home Freezers

"The home freezer has had an affect also," he said. He reasoned that the housewife can stock up on foods with a home freezer and doesn't need to shop as much.

For adult passengers, the proposed rate would increase cash fares from 10 to 15 cents. However, tokens would cost the adult passenger 12½ cents each—or four for 50 cents. The free transfer privilege would remain.

For public school students, above the age of 12, tokens costing 7½ cents a piece—or 10 tokens for 75 cents—could be used during school hours. After school hours the cash fare for students in this age group would be 10 cents. At present the cash fare for students is 8 cents during school hours.

Children in the 5 to 12, inclusive, age group would be awarded the same rates as the older students except that tokens could be used during and after school hours.

CORNPICKING STARTS — Probably among the first farmers in southeastern Nebraska to start cornpicking in earnest at the middle of the week was Adolph Priess of Lincoln whose field is shown here. On the tractor is Dale Van Landingham of Rt. 6, Lincoln. The field of hybrid corn was grown on non-irrigated land and Priess estimates it will yield about 65 bushels per acre. (Star Staff Photo.)

Crowds At Truman Special 'Amazing'

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S TRAIN — Early arising newsmen, who have been with President Truman's special train on its whistle stop tour to the west coast, expressed amazement after the train left Lincoln at 6:45 a.m., Wednesday, at the large number of people watching the train pass through at non-scheduled stops.

At nearly every section line cars could be seen parked on side roads awaiting the train.

The first stop at Pacific Junction, Ia., about 8 a.m., found about 300 persons awaiting the train. The President recalled that on his last visit in 1950 it was on his 66th birthday and that he had been presented with a cake.

Having heard that A. Clifford Anderson, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in Nebraska is serving on a district court jury and unable to campaign although excused for the day to go to Shenandoah, the President insisted that he be introduced in the hope that the "good neighbor policy" between midwestern states might help him.

He called attention to a "slick Republican magazine called the Farm Journal" which he said carried an editorial on the front page saying that a change is needed "to rescue the nation. . . from an administration. . . helplessly lost, groggy and full of intrenched ineptude."

He said that on page 46 of the magazine was an article, "What to do with surplus money," and he said it told that for farmers the question of what to do with surplus cash is often a problem.

"Now that certainly sounds like we have got the country in a terrible fix" he said. We have created a new problem for the farmer: what to do with his surplus money.

"Yes sir!—it sure is a tough life for the farmer after 20 years of helpless Democratic ineptitude."

An hour later at Hamburg a crowd of about 1,000 greeted him and on roads leading to the station could be seen autos parked for miles. Here for the first time his daughter, Margaret, made an appearance after his talk.

He explained that she has given him a lot of help.

President Truman read from a letter he had received from a farmer friend in Missouri urging him to "shoot at the Republicans" some replies to talk about "deep freeze and mink coats." The letter urged him to mention, "30 cent wheat, 10 cent corn, 10 cent oats, 3 cent hogs and 3 cent cattle and the bank failures."

"Now do the farmers want a change back to those times?" the President asked and there came a heavy reply of "no" from farmers in the audience.

He advised his listeners that the best way to insure peace was by electing Stevenson and Sparkman.

At Shenandoah, the President headed the Harvest Festival parade on a route from the station down the mile long principal street and to the armory where a "pancake feed" was served as part of the festival.

Midway in the parade rode Sen. Robert Taft, who was to speak two hours later than the President.

It was an undemonstrative crowd and the President passed many of the spectators before they knew it due to his being seated in the rear seat of a convertible. Observers said his applause was about equal to that given Senator Taft who sat upon the back of his convertible waving his hand. Margaret Truman was riding in a sedan. Some "boos" were reported as Taft passed.

Campaign buttons were not much in evidence in the crowd and were slightly in favor of the Democratic nominees. A number of Taft badges that had been used before the convention were noticeable.

At the pancake meal in the armory, Mrs. A. Clifford Anderson, wife of the Nebraska candidate for lieutenant governor, was called upon to lead the group in singing the Democratic campaign song, "Don't Let Them Take It Away."

One observer of the Shenandoah crowd analyzed it "as part Truman, part Taft, part pancakes but mostly enjoying a nice autumn day."

An hour before the arrival of the President in Shenandoah, the highway from Nebraska City was jammed with autos from Nebraska enroute to the festival.

President Truman conferred on the train with National Committeeman Bernard Boyle and Chairman William Meier heading the Nebraska delegation.

He told them that he is at a loss to understand why great senators like Norris and LaFollette had been replaced by Wherry and McCarthy as they did not represent the same thinking of the people.

He said that he considered Sen. Wherry an honest man but one without a grasp of the problems now facing farmers.

Auburn Second Grader Invited Into President's Private Car

A sparkling-eyed, snappily dressed seven-year-old second grader from Auburn, Nebraska, found himself a celebrity Wednesday, and had a great time at it.

For Stephen Mannschreck and his father were the only people besides top party officials who got a chance to talk to President Harry S. Truman aboard the presidential campaign special train.

And besides the visit, Stephen came away with an autograph of the President which should prove to his school-mates that he actually saw the nation's chief executive.

Got Day Off

The whole thing started after the Truman visit to Shenandoah, Ia., was announced, and Stephan's father Lester Mannschreck remarked to a school board member that if school was dismissed for the Eisenhower appearance, any child wanting to hear Truman should get the day off. Lester Mannschreck is a precinct committeeman of the Democratic party in normally Republican Auburn.

An item appeared in the Auburn paper, and school officials readily agreed. The item in the paper reached William H. Meier, Nebraska Democratic chairman, and an invitation went out for Stephen and his father to ride the train from Lincoln to Shenandoah.

So at 3 a.m. Wednesday morning (after going to bed early the night before), Stephan crawled out of bed and came to Lincoln with a proud mother and pretty excited father.

Calm, Cool

In Lincoln before boarding the train, Stephen was one of the calmest and coolest of the politicians and candidates waiting for the Diesel's whistle.

On board the train, Stephan and his father were the only persons besides State Chairman Meier and National Committeeman Bernard Boyle who got to go back to the President's private car.

After the interview, with the autograph safely tucked away, the excitement wore off pretty fast, the bright eyes dimmed and he fell fast asleep on his father's lap. It had been a long day.

Curt U.S. Note Sent To Russia; Envoy Post To Remain Unfilled

Right Of Ambassador To Compare Conditions In Soviet With Those Under Nazis Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. Wednesday rejected Russian demands for the removal of Ambassador George F. Kennan and said the envoy was right in comparing conditions in the Soviet Union with those in Berlin under the Nazis.

While the U. S. has no practical way of returning Kennan to the Moscow post, this government in a note to the Kremlin officially refrained from accepting the recall demand.

The curt note indicated that Kennan will retain his title and the Moscow post will go unfilled for some time.

Russia last week declared Kennan personna non grata—personally unacceptable—because of his remarks about the Soviet and demanded that he be recalled.

Wednesday's reply to Russia bluntly stated "the U. S. government cannot accept the charges made by the Soviet government as constituting valid reasons for acceding to the request for the recall of Ambassador Kennan."

Gross Violation

Kennan, who is in Europe, is being brought home for consultation, but it was emphasized that this is not an official recall as demanded by Russia.

The U. S. note, delivered in Moscow by Charge d'Affaires Elim O'Shaughnessy, told Russia that her treatment of diplomatic representatives "grossly violates the traditions and customs in international intercourse developed over generations."

No mention was made in the note of possible retaliatory action against newly arrived Russian Ambassador Georgi Zarubin. Before publication of the note Secretary of State Acheson turned aside demands of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that the U. S. either ask the recall of Zarubin or break off diplomatic relations with the Kremlin.

Reply in Part

The reply stated in part:

Ambassador Kennan's statement accurately and in moderate language described the position of foreign diplomats accredited to the Soviet government. It is this treatment of diplomatic representatives systematically applied over a period of the years by the Soviet government, which grossly violates the traditions and customs in international intercourse developed over generations.

"In the light of the above, the U. S. government cannot accept the charges made by the Soviet government as constituting valid reasons for acceding to the request for the recall of Ambassador Kennan."

Unknown Youth's Parents Located By Authorities

The parents of Jimmy Davis or Floyd Jones have been located, according to a statement made by Juvenile Court Judge Harry A. Spencer Wednesday.

Jimmy, or Floyd, was the subject of a Lincoln Star feature recently. The 13-year-old boy had been picked up by the Lincoln police approximately three months ago. He said he was in Lincoln to visit an aunt. The police could not locate any relatives of the lad here and the boy was placed in the Detention Home.

Juvenile authorities started a search for someone—anyone—who knew anything at all about the boy's parents or where he belonged.

According to Judge Spencer, the boy's name is neither Jimmy Davis nor Floyd Jones. Juvenile authorities believe the boy ran away from home because of his dislike for his stepfather.

Mrs. Grace Morning, Chief Juvenile Probation Officer, said Wednesday that full details concerning the boy's true name, his home, and the circumstances would not be available "for a few days."

Mother Of Two Killed In Crash

UTICA, Neb. (Special To The Star)—A 22-year-old mother of two small children, Mrs. Emil Zima, of near Gresham, died of injuries suffered in a head-on car-truck crash just south and east of here Wednesday night.

The driver of the truck, 16-year-old Richard Rieger of Beaver Crossing, was unconscious and in "critical condition" at York hospital after being pinned under the cab of his pickup truck after the collision. He had a crushed chest and cuts around the arm and face.

Mrs. Zima, who was driving, was returning to her farm home with her two children, Sandra, 5, and Linda, 17 months. The two children were unhurt.

Sheriff Ray Welch said the setting sun and dust thrown up by a car ahead of the truck apparently caused the head-on collision.

Crete Teen-Ager Is Unconscious, But Improving

Evelyn Cookus, 17-year-old Crete high school girl, remained in critical but slightly improved condition Wednesday night at St. Elizabeth Hospital, but has not to date shown signs of regaining consciousness.

The Crete teen-ager was knocked unconscious and suffered critical injuries in a crash Saturday night of a car in which four other Crete teen-agers were riding. The car involved failed to negotiate a curve when it attempted to turn from Highway 33 to Highway 77 south of the Turnpike.

Carol Hudkins, 17, a rider in the car, is reported in improved condition.

Political Broadcasts

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to be heard Thursday night at 9 over WOW and KMTV, and 10:30 over KFOR.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson will speak at 10:05 p.m. over KFAB.

White Horse Peak A No-Man's-Land Littered With Dead

From Press Dispatches

SEOUL (Thursday)—The embattled crest of White Horse peak, guarding the road to Seoul, was an artillery-pocked no-man's-land today following a night-long seesaw battle between Allied and Red troops.

The strategic Korean hill changed hands four times during a night of bitter hand-to-hand fighting, but with daylight this morning both sides were forced to withdraw under withering artillery and mortar fire.

After the fierce hand-to-hand battle for the hill the crest of White Horse, only 61 miles from the South Korean capital, was littered with dead.

Both sides poured thousands of infantrymen and dozens of tanks into the struggle for White Horse and nearby Arrowhead Ridge, where U. S. Second Division and French troops withstood the shock of human-sea attacks.

An American officer said one division alone in this Western Sector had inflicted about 3,000 casualties on the Chinese since the Reds opened their big drive Monday night.

The U. S. Eighth Army communique reported that two of seven outposts hills overrun Monday when 15,000 Reds struck along two-thirds of the Korean front had been recaptured. Later tactical summaries indicated, however, that the Reds had re-won the positions.

Heavy fighting also broke out on the Central Front around Finger Ridge, where the Communists occupied two positions in the first onslaught Monday.

Eighth Army troops stormed back up the heights Tuesday night but lost them again in a battle of small arms and hand grenades Wednesday morning. A later Allied counter-attack was stalled.

Truman Charges:

Ike Opposes Federal Aid To Education

Schools Face Money Crisis, HST Asserts

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP)—President Truman Wednesday night pictured Dwight D. Eisenhower and his backers as opposed to federal aid to education at a time when money crisis in the schools is approaching the "catastrophic."

Truman chose Jefferson City, in his home state of Missouri, to charge the Republicans with taking their stand "on the side of ignorance," which he called "freedom's worst enemy."

Earlier, at Shenandoah, Ia., he blasted the Republican presidential candidate's farm views as "generalities, platitudes, half truths and plain misrepresentation."

In a prepared speech for a rear platform crowd at Jefferson City, the President said Eisenhower, then head of Columbia University, lent his prestige in 1949 to Republican congressmen opposing federal aid and his action helped defeat the bill.

Bob Green Of NU Heads New State Church Fellowship

Bob Green, University of Nebraska Law College student, has been elected chairman of a newly organized state-wide United Student Fellowship organization.

Twenty-five students from five colleges in the state met at First Plymouth Congregational Church to organize Congregational, Evangelical and Reformed and Presbyterian college students of Nebraska into the group.

Colleges represented in the group are Doane, Hastings, University of Nebraska, Wayne State, and Nebraska Wesleyan.

The organization, composed of college students, is designed to help high school seniors make the transition into college without losing touch with their churches and church organizations.

Other new officers are Janis Nelson, Wayne State College, vice chairman; Rose Fujan, Wayne State College, secretary; Phyllis Smith, University of Nebraska, treasurer; Marvin Green, University of Nebraska, action commission chairman; Marilyn Wagner, Wesleyan, faith commission chairman; Dianne Nelson, Hastings, fellowship commision chairman.

A committee was also chosen to draw up a state constitution which will be approved at the next meeting.

Social Forces Of Majority Should Form Curriculum, Speaker Declares

Schools should be subjected to the social forces of the majority of people rather than a small minority, George Denemark of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development said Wednesday.

Denemark stressed that schools should not submit to the dictates or criticism of a few outspoken persons and allow them to mold the school program.

He was speaking at a meeting of the Nebraska association at the University of Nebraska. About 125 from throughout the state attended the meeting.

In the afternoon sessions, Dr. Harvey Littrell, president of the Nebraska association, and director of secondary education at Hastings College, conducted discussions on state problems and the development of better curriculums.

At the noon luncheon the group discussed the cooperative research program by the national association in the curriculum field.

Denemark also spoke at the evening banquet at the Student Union on the program and activities of the national association.

Dr. John G. Saylor, professor of secondary education at the University of Nebraska, was in charge of arrangements for the one-day meeting.

Cold War Step-Up Is Urged By Ike

Eisenhower accused the President of making "fantastic charges" against him about the 1945 statement on Russia.

Replies To Truman

The general said his testimony before a Congressional Committee "amounted to an appeal to the Congress to take every military precaution against the day when our most optimistic hopes—mine and my fellow-countrymen's—might be shattered in disillusion."

President Truman reminded his Western audiences during his swing down the Pacific Coast last week that Eisenhower testified in 1945 that, "nothing guides Russian policy so much as a desire for friendship with the U. S."

He charged that this advice imperiled the nation's security.

Ike said his statement was made "before the Kremlin tipped its hand" and again declared that the President said three years later that he liked "old Uncle Joe Stalin."

Centenarian Dies; Once Lived In Sod House On Prairies

HOWELLS, Neb. (INS) — Funeral services will be held Saturday at Howells for Mrs. Mary Krupka, 100, one of the oldest residents in the area, who died Wednesday at the home of her daughter.

Mrs. Krupka came to Nebraska 75 years ago and lived for a time in a sod house on the prairie. Her husband died in 1921.

Survivors include a son, Joseph, and daughters, Agnes, Mrs. Joe Pojar and Mrs. James Pokorny, all of Howells, and Mrs. Adolph Dlouhy of Schuyler.

Soviet Victim?

Eastern AF Seeks Lost Superfort

. . . Fell In Flames

TOKYO (Thursday) (INS) — Intensive air search was pressed Wednesday for a missing American Superfort which an Air Force spokesman indicated may have been shot down by a Soviet fighter in the vicinity of the Russian-held Kuriles.

The plane, with its crew of eight, dropped from sight as Air Force radar operators on Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, watched its image on their screen "merge" with an "unidentified" plane headed toward it from the direction of the Kurile Islands.

The Russians control the Kuriles and are known to maintain fighter bases in the area which borders on northeast Japan.

The Air Force said there were no other U. S. planes in the air at the time of the B-29's disappearance.

Makes No Claims

An Air Force spokesman said headquarters was "making no claims and no accusations" in disclosing that the radar had picked up the "unidentified sighting" approaching the U. S. plane.

Japanese eyewitness reports said that the plane hurtled suddenly into the sea off the northeast tip of Japan, belching black smoke.

The plane was well within Japanese territorial waters when it disappeared.

The Air Force report said that just after the track of the Superfort disappeared from the radar screen, a radio call in English was heard crying "May Day"—phonetic equivalent of the international voice distress call.

Then came a brief remark: "Let's get the hell out of here."

Then there was silence.

The Air Force, in reconstructing the incident, said the B-29 was on a routine flight Tuesday afternoon, flying at 15,000 feet over Hokkaido.

Second Plane Spotted

While it was under "customary" radar observation, a second, unidentified radar sighting was plotted.

The B-29 was heading east in the general direction of the Kuriles, and the second plane was heading on a bee-line west, as thought it had taken off from a Kuriles base.

The tracks of the two were followed until they merged on the radar scope about eight miles northwest of Nemuho, in Japanese territorial waters about 15 miles from the Soviet-controlled islands.

The "merger" took place over the open sea.

POLK MAN KILLED IN NAVY PATROL PLANE SMASH-UP

POLK, Neb. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Moline of Polk were notified by the Defense Department Wednesday that their son, Reuben, had been killed in the crash of a Navy plan in Newfoundland.

The plane crashed at the Argentia Naval Station while making a landing approach under reduced visibility, the Navy said.

New State Oil Wells Number 220 For '52

A total of 220 oil wells have been drilled in the state so far this year, reported Eugene C. Reed, associate director of the University of Nebraska, Wednesday at a meeting of the Nebraska Co-ordinating Committee for Missouri Basin Development.

Speaking at the Committee's first 1952-53 meeting at the State House, Reed estimated that by the end of the year the total number of new oil wells would reach 300.

Reed further estimated that the state's oil production this year would amount to four or five million barrels. He was reviewing the oil development in Nebraska since its beginning in 1940.

Geological formations in the state were explained by the speaker who showed detailed diagrams of the entire state.

Dean William V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture at the University of Nebraska served as chairman.

Rev. Matzner, Hurt In Crash, Is 'Critical'

Rev. Adolph Matzner of the Evangelical Reformed Church in Plattsmouth remained on the critical list late Wednesday resulting from injuries he suffered in an early morning accident at Cotner and O Sts.

Also injured and reported in serious but not critical condition were Mrs. L. B. Egenberger and Mrs. Tena Born, 71, also of Plattsmouth. Two other women riding in the accident car were reported improved from the initial shock of the crash. They suffered less severe injuries, but needed emergency treatment. The two are Elizabeth Engelkmier, 69, and Mrs. Emil Schmidt, 35, also of Plattsmouth.

All five were received at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Out Of Control

According to Millburn Green, investigating officer, Rev. Matzner, driver of the car, was heading west on the O St. approach to the city and swerved to avoid hitting two cars stopped at Cotner St. intersection. The car, apparently out of control, crossed the road and crashed into a telephone pole on the north side of the Fleetwing Service Station.

Rev. Matzner suffered severe chest and internal injuries. Mrs. Egenberger had possible fractures of both legs in the upper thighs, a deep cut below the knee on her right leg, and a fractured right ankle. Mrs. Born suffered a broken right arm and cuts about the body.

The Matzner party was on its way to Goehner to attend a convention of the Evangelical Reformed Church.

Mrs. Vickery, 92, Resident Of State For 64 Years, Dies

Mrs. Lenora Gertrude Vickery, 92, 853 No. 21st, a resident of Nebraska for 64 years, died at her home Wednesday.

She was a member of the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Martha Givens, East Omaha; Mrs. Mary Givens, Lincoln; Mrs. Edna Aaron, Everett, Wash., and Mrs. Daisy Kirlin, Torrington, Wyo.; a son, John Leslie Vickery, Seattle, Wash.; 16 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

300 Insurance Agents Register For Meet

45th Annual Convention Opens Here

Three hundred insurance men were registered by late Wednesday for the 45th annual convention of the Nebraska Association of Insurance Agents which begins Thursday in Lincoln.

The total number is expected to be "between 400 and 450 persons" when the convention officially opens at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Cornhusker Hotel.

Only the executive committee met Wednesday. Otherwise it was a "night on the town" for the early arrivals.

The first convention day will consist of two concurrently conducted schools.

Dr. Curtis M. Elliott, professor of insurance at the University of Nebraska, will teach the "Liability Insurance School," with a comprehensive series of lectures on "Liability Principles."

Faculty members of the "Farm Insurance School" will include A. R. Johnson of Chicago; C. E. Hedstrom of Omaha; Jack R. Roth of Omaha; Robert H. Miller of Scottsbluff; Robert E. Forrest of Omaha, and Forrest Riddell. All are executives or special agents of leading insurance firms.

A buffet supper and stag smoker concludes Thursday's activities.

On Friday morning, the convention leads off with the annual business meeting and election of officers, beginning at 10 a.m.

In the afternoon a series of addresses by insurance firm executives is scheduled:

"What Are We Doing About The Automobile Situation" by Hugh D. Combs of Baltimore.

"Profitable Agency Advertising" by William J. Traynor of New York City.

"More Profits From Your Files" by Oscar Beling of New York City.

"Business Interruption Made Simple" by Robert T. Foote of Chicago.

Installation of officers and award presentation will be the highlights of the evening banquet, followed by a floor show.

The official program schedules the Kansas State-Nebraska football game for Saturday.

French Reds Hit By Police Raids

PARIS (AP)—Police swooped down on Communist newspapers and offices throughout France Wednesday, nabbing about a dozen small fry Reds and seizing documents.

The National Defense Ministry said the raids were ordered by a Paris military tribunal looking for evidence on which to bring charges against Communists for trying to demoralize the Army, the nation, and threaten the security of France.

Plans For Parties On Halloween Are Feature Of Month

Complete party plans and outlines for Halloween are the feature in the October party planning service furnished by the City Recreation Department.

The plans, which can be obtained free at the Recreation Department in the City Hall, outline parties for both the young and old. Also, both outside and indoors parties are included in the service.

In presenting the plan, Mrs. Doris Pierce of the Recreation Department pointed out that "organized children's parties could do so much to prevent the wrong kind of pranks and conduct."

The Department prints a monthly party plan based on the season at hand. The service is generally distributed to all church groups within the city.

Business Loans Jump $65 Million During Week Ending Oct. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Business loans increased 65 million dollars during the week which ended Oct. 1 at Federal Reserve member banks in leading cities across the nation, the Federal Reserve Board reported Wednesday.

This brought the outstanding volume of commercial, industrial and agricultural loans reported by the federal reserve to $21,671,000,000 an increase of one and one-half billions in the past 12 months.

No Place For Intellectuals

By J. E. LAWRENCE

You cross the river—deep, white-crested, clean—by ferry just above the historic heights of Yorktown. Then, if your are traveling by automobile, you follow its winding course for 11 miles at the foot of wooded hills to enter one of America's old cities, Williamsburg, now restored to its original design—Williamsburg, home of some of America's immortals and shrine of Freedom.

★

There dwelt in high purpose the teacher of Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and others of the Virginians. There is the chapel in which Patrick Henry is reputed to have uttered his historic words. And there in a setting of trees, grass and colonial homes, you look upon the intellectual atmosphere which contributed greatly to the moral conceptions of individual liberty and human dignity. You sense it in the rooms of the house in which Wyth lived. You feel its presence in the gardens which he planted. You surrender to its existence in the atmosphere of the Old Inn. Every foot of its ground, every room in its homes echo to the thrilling story that proclaimed a political equality among men—and more than that, instinctively you sense that in the beginning of this exciting story of America enshrined high in the skies is a respect for intellectual capacity in a land where men would be free—free not only in a physical sense but in the sacred chambers of the mind and the conscience. Those Virginians were America's intellectuals.

★

One of the amazing developments of our times is the disposition in recent years to scoff at the intellectual. There has been a heavy undertone of it in the current campaign. Down with the intellectual, they shout. Grab a broom, they cry, a broom with which to sweep the temples clean. The intellectual is a foe of democracy, an enemy of human freedom, a traitor to his forebears. Most of us have not caught up with this undercurrent yet. Many of us would be shocked and repelled were we to believe that a leadership characterized by intellectual qualities is unacceptable to us.

★

In all of this discussion, the spotlight switches so quickly to the new Wisconsin—not the Wisconsin for which old Bob LaFollette spoke but the Wisconsin which echoes to Joe McCarthy's rabble-rousing. "Be tough," McCarthy cries whenever he gets upon his favorite topic of Communism. We have a notion that 99.9 per cent of the American people—probably more—feel the same way about it, but differ in their conceptions of what "getting tough" means. Many people feel that McCarthy defeats his own avowed objectives by his methods.

No nation on the globe can match this country in the system of free education. No nation can boast of finer small colleges and universities. It is education—mass education for the masses—that has made America great and in that greatness, the public school system or the American college or university has had a large part. They are the foundations of freedom, the steady flame, as Jefferson saw it. Yet at Milwaukee, after endorsing Sen. McCarthy, after yielding to McCarthy's plea to eliminate from his Milwaukee speech a defense of his old friend and chief, Gen. George C. Marshall (one of McCarthy's targets), Gen. Eisenhower was quoted in The New York Times of Saturday, October 4 as saying this:

". . . A national tolerance of Communism that believed in 'economic democracy' had 'poisoned two whole decades of our national life and insinuated itself into our schools, our public forums, some of our news channels, some of our labor unions and—most terrifyingly—into our government itself.'"

★

We recognize that the public school is fair prey for any hunter. We know that the teaching staffs—both in the public schools and universities—are subject to intimidation if in the freedom of their minds they fail to conform to the definition of sound Americanism formulated by those who pose as super-patriots. But man for man—or woman for woman—the teachers in America's public educational system have been remarkably free from the taint of Communism, loyal, devoted to American tradition. Only a man speaking loosely in the atmosphere of a friendly audience would suggest that two decades of national life have been poisoned, and in the poisoning, our schools, our public forums and some of our news channels contaminated have contributed to that end result.

★

One quality which the intellectual imparts to American life is the right to dissent. We do not know what impulse it was that moved Gen. Eisenhower to delete from his Milwaukee address upon the advice of Sen. McCarthy a defense of Eisenhower's old friend, Gen. Marshall. We know that as a mark of intellectual greatness, a defense of Marshall in Milwaukee would have been so fitting. That is where Marshall's old friend should have welcomed the opportunity to defend his former chief, who himself had made a most considerable contribution to safeguarding human freedom.

★

More specifically, this discussion gets down to the practical steps and in his own speech in Detroit Tuesday night, Gov. Stevenson struck home with questions that deserve an answer. He asked if Gen. Eisenhower ,proposed to fire J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI; Gen. Bedell Smith, of Central Intelligence; and Allen Dulles. These three are the men primarily charged with safeguarding America against Communist infiltration. Are they doing their job? If not, what then? How would Gen. Eisenhower meet this menace when it relates to the schools, the public forum and the news channel?

Score One For Governor Val

On the opening day of April last, with spring's promise strong in the nostrils, Gov. Val Peterson saw his political hopes to unseat Hugh Butler, as one of Nebraska representatives in the United States Senate, vanish. Gov. Peterson suffered the most decisive defeat in his career. He was not opposed by a strong candidate, although admittedly Hugh Butler is a slick operator when it comes to garnering votes.

Mr. Peterson is not down and out politically—far from it. He has achieved one of the most amazing political comebacks in recent years. Thwarted in his ambition to go to the Senate, it is possible that Gov. Peterson will by-pass Capitol Hill to occupy a key post in the Eisenhower administration, if Eisenhower wins next month. A short time ago the Republican presidential candidate publicly said that he had had a good teacher in developing a program for flood control—and then he named Gov. Peterson of Nebraska.

There has been ample confirmation in Gen. Eisenhower's swing to the West coast — in his campaign through Washington state, Oregon and California—that the general was an apt pupil and the governor, a eager teacher. Every word that has come from Gen. Eisenhower's lips might have been tossed to the winds by Gov. Peterson—in fact, has been said by Gov. Peterson and said better than the general said it. The more miles that Gen. Eisenhower placed between himself and Nebraska, however, the fainter the recollections of the lessons he received from his teacher. By the time he reached Seattle, the general unlimbered his heaviest artillery against the Bureau of Reclamation, notably ignoring the Corps of Army Engineers to center his fire upon reclamation policies.

Gov. Peterson, of course, is committed to the Pick-Sloan plan—half Corps of Army Engineers and half Bureau of Reclamation.

It must torment Sen. Butler to stand by idly and observe Gov. Peterson's political resurgence. The governor was not too gentle in the type of campaign he waged against Sen. Butler. Now the senator and the governor are one and should it happen that Gov. Peterson is nominated to a cabinet post, specifically to be Secretary of the Interior, no doubt Sen. Butler will fall all over himself in approving the selection.

Those Weapons That 'See'

For years scientists have warned of an era of "push-button" warfare, with weapons of astonishing magnitude being thrust at the enemy over thousands of miles of space. Today that era appears to be near indeed, with new projects being undertaken that will dwarf even the pilotless planes which have been launched to hit targets far behind the lines of the enemy in Korea.

The arsenal of weapons is steadily growing and the destructiveness of the new electronic devices staggers the imagination. The guided missiles and the robot planes seem almost human in their capacities, the most impressive thing about them being their ability to "see." They are set to hit a target, launched, act under controlled impulses, sight in on their objective, and then burst with furious impact when their task is accomplished.

We can be proud of the progress we have made in scientific endeavors, but the purpose to which we have put these discoveries is hardly one to give satisfaction. One of the ironic and tragic facts of our civilization is that we have extended not only the length and richness of life, but have correspondingly increased our effectiveness in taking life.

—And Still Champions

The Dodgers, noble of heart and admirable of spirit tried—tried hard. They almost did it. But when the husky left fielder of the New York Yankees gathered in the last fly ball of the ninth inning of the seventh game of the 1952 World Series, the champs still were champs..

The cool, methodical Yankees were as happy as schoolboys when the nerve-racking fray was over. They jumped with joy, not unlike the victorious high school footballers when the final gun sounds, and they all but decapitated a sturdy left-handed pitcher by the name of Bob Kuzava who had pitched them to their most important victory. There was no longer any need to be the impressive, oppressive, haughty Yankees. They were a group of men, and in many cases boys, who had won the highest prize their profession offered them, and four straight world championships are something matched only by an earlier group of Yankees.

There was old Johnny Mize, "washed up" two years ago, the experts said, who swung mightily and hit three home runs for the victors in the series. And there was young Mickey Mantle, whose father is actually a few months shy of the age of Mize, who came through with flying colors, batting from either side of the plate. And down the list of Yankees, not the Yankees of another era, but fully entitled to return to the "Home of Champions" next year with the pennant of the world championship flying from the center field flagpole.

There is no joy in Brooklyn. The Dodgers, like mighty Casey, had struck out. But there is honor enough for them in their gallant effort.

Western Crowds Meet Truman With Warmth

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S TRAIN — Harry Truman has been gliding past country that he knows well, and it has been smiling at him.

Outside his train window the alfalfa fields of Utah lay green and prosperous as he passed pick-up balers, which many farmers could not afford a few years ago, leaving a trail of green bales behind them. In California stack upon stack of wheat straw dotted the fields. At Provo, a new steel mill, built by the government when private industry refused to take the risk, has brought new prosperity.

Water seems more plentiful this year, and in some areas it has been brought down from the mountains by dams and reclamation projects pioneered by the Truman or Roosevelt administrations.

Yes, the Far West smiles on Harry Truman both politically and economically. It smiles but it isn't boisterous. It doesn't give him the noisy demonstrations that the crowds give Eisenhower, and the President in turn doesn't usually give them the fire-and-brimstone, skin-'em-alive oratory that Ike delivers from the rear platform. Sometimes he does, but he doesn't follow a general pattern.

However, though the crowds are big and the faces friendly you detect an undercurrent of Republicanism in these normally Democratic states.

It's hard to put your finger on, but it's there. It's there partly because the sun is smiling economically. There isn't the economic pinch that there has been sometimes. There isn't any workers' and farmers' fear of security. And in that respect, Harry Truman's reclamation, the new steel mill, the price support perhaps may help defeat his own political ends. But perhaps more important is the desire of a change. People aren't particularly swayed by oratorical bombast on either side, and many are not at all enthusiastic about Eisenhower. And they don't know much about Stevenson, except that he's a little highbrow. But above all they want a change.

McCARRAN'S PROBLEM

In Nevada, Sen. Pat McCarran is stuck politically between the devil and the deep blue sea. A young war veteran named Tom Mechling succeeded in trouncing McCarran's former law partner, Allan Bible, in the Democratic primaries. So the natural thing for McCarran to do would be to cut the Democratic ticket, which he hasn't hesitated to do in the past.

But if he cuts Democrat Mechling, then he elects GOP Sen. "Molly" Malone, for whom he has no respect whatsoever. Time after time, the brusque McCarran has snubbed or publicly browbeaten his GOP colleague from Nevada.

Once, when Malone was making a Senate speech condemning the reciprocal trade treaty, McCarran, listening impatiently, finally whispered to Sen. Walter George of Georgia that he would "put a stop to this."

Deliberately stalking across the front of the Senate chamber, McCarran planted himself in front of the other senator from Nevada and fixed him with a glassy stare.

Today McCarran, a Democrat, is likely to bolt the Democratic ticket and secretly support Malone, whom he doesn't respect but whom he can control.

WARREN UNHAPPY

Republican leaders are not happy over the fact that California's popular Gov. Earl Warren welcomed President Truman when the President's train entered the state, and that he also is inviting both Stevenson and Eisenhower to speak from the steps of the state capitol.

However, Gov. Warren is not only always elected by a large segment of Democratic votes, but he has no particular reason to love Nixon and Eisenhower.

It was Sen. Nixon, a member of the California delegation, who bored from within at the Chicago convention in order to swing Warren's own delegation over to Eisenhower. Knowland, the senior California senator, was taken on the mountain-top by Sen. Taft and offered the full weight of the Taft delegates for president if Taft failed to make it on the first ballot. In return Knowland had to deliver the California delegation on the first ballot.

Seldom has a young man been so severely tempted. But Sen. Knowland remained loyal to his friend, Gov. Warren.

Nixon, however, didn't. He cut Warren, got the vice presidency.

☆ ☆ ☆

Another reason why the governor of California isn't overly happy about the GOP ticket is some remarks which Eisenhower made about him when visiting in San Francisco two years ago.

Gov. Warren had the courage to take a firm stand against the witch-hunters on the board of regents of the University of California when they demanded a faculty oath that would delve into the entire life of every professor. Though his stand was unpopular, Warren bucked his board of regents and backed the faculty.

This inspired Gen. Eisenhower to make some off-the-record remarks at the San Francisco Press Club that he didn't know of any loyalty oath he wouldn't be willing to stand up and swear to.

Naturally the remark got back to Warren.

"It is interesting," commented the governor to a friend, "that the general made his remark off the record so it would not be quoted in the East. For he and President Conant of Harvard were the first to take a public stand against loyalty oaths.

"Furthermore," continued Warren, "it happens that the university which Ike heads has more Communists and Reds than any other in the country."

Gov. Warren is going out on a train to campaign for the ticket. But his friends say it's obvious his heart isn't in it.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Demos Eye Senatorial Victory With Fairchild

MADISON, Wis.—The Democratic candidate opposing Sen. Joseph McCarthy, seeking re-election to his second term in the Senate, is Thomas Fairchild. He comes of a family with a long and distinguished reputation of office-holding and public service in the state.

His father is chief justice of the State Supreme Court. One of the early governors was a Fairchild. It is in this tradition of public service that Tom Fairchild presents himself to the voters. In part, there is the old LaFollette tradition which many say—some sadly and others gleefully—is now merely history.

Once before defeated for the Senate when he ran against Sen. Alexander Wiley after he had been elected state attorney general, Fairchild looks like just what he is—a conscientious, serious lawyer bent on discussing the issues. That is the kind of campaign he is waging as he gets around the state drawing comparatively small crowds to whom he speaks earnestly and soberly.

On the other side is McCarthy's loud, angry dynamism—the constant propaganda that a vote for the opposition is a vote for Communism. Behind McCarthy is the powerful Republican organization with large amounts of enthusiasm, money and publicity. Such a contest would appear to be so one-sided as to leave little or no doubt about the outcome. That assumption of inevitable victory has been carefully fostered by the Republicans and it has taken hold to a large degree outside the state.

Yet the Democrats insist that despite McCarthy's more than two-to-one victory in the Republican primary, they have a chance to defeat him. They got their courage up by analyzing past election figures to show that the McCarthy primary win was not a demonstration of the impossibility of his defeat in the election in November.

McCarthy got approximately 515,000 votes in the primary. His opponent, Leonard Schmitt, got 215,000. Nearly 200,000 votes were cast in the Democratic primary, the largest total in the history of a party which in this state has always been second fiddle.

☆ ☆ ☆

The hopeful Democratic analyzers add the 215,000 and 200,000, arguing that these were all anti-McCarthy votes. There is some justification for this, since Schmitt announced both before and after that primary election that he would under no circumstances support McCarthy, and he is now opposing him. A total of 415,000 leaves a margin of only 100,000 below McCarthy's 515,000.

In the election following the primary about 500,000 more voters customarily go to the polls and the record shows pretty consistently that two-thirds of this increase is in the Democratic column.

With an additional 500,000 voting this November, two-thirds going to Fairchild and one-third to McCarthy, Fairchild would have a margin victory of 67,000. If this sounds a little like astrology or necromancy, put it down to the fact that this is a strange political year and nowhere is it stranger than in Wisconsin.

☆ ☆ ☆

If McCarthy has had help from outside—supplied by Arthur Bliss Lane, former American ambassador to Poland, and Robert Vogeler—so has Fairchild. Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan spent nearly a week in Wisconsin campaigning for the national ticket and attacking McCarthy on his farm votes in this state where Rural Electrification Administration co-ops build their own steam and hydrolectric plants as part of their co-operatively owned systems. The co-ops are considered a powerful force. Brannan charged in a half-dozen speeches a day that an analysis of McCarthy's record showed he had voted "wrong"—that is to say, against REA and REA appropriations—83 per cent of the time.

Brannan's foray into Wisconsin is part of his effort to help hold for the Democrats the narrow margin by which in 1948 President Truman carried Midwest farm states that had been considered unquestionably safe for the GOP. The Democrats have carried Wisconsin in three of the past four presidential elections. Truman's margin four years ago was 57,000, with 25,000 votes cast for Henry Wallace and his Progressive party.

In terms of a total vote of 1,200,000 that is not a large margin to overcome. In Wisconsin, as elsewhere, the Republicans are confident that this time the farm vote is shifting back to the old loyalty once so deeply embedded in Republicanism. And they are even more confident that the combinaton of McCarthy and Gen. Eisenhower guarantees victory beyond a doubt.

She Puts Together Dolls That 'Big Girls' Like

By MARILYN KIRKEBY
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. Minnie Glenn, 81, 6845 Ballard, believes that the female of the species is "never too old to play with dolls."

Bed-ridden for the past four years and previously confined to a wheel chair for 25 years, Mrs. Glenn spends her time crocheting clothing for eight-inch plastic dolls.

"I sell quite a few and give more of them away," said Mrs. Glenn, who estimates she has dressed approximately 40 dolls since she began her hobby last winter.

☆ ☆ ☆

Although she crochets the dresses, hats, and underclothes used to dress the dolls, Mrs. Glenn confessed that she has never learned to read a crochet pattern.

"I just make it up as I go along and it always turns out all right," she said.

Mrs. Glenn does all the work while lying in bed. She sits up only in the evenings. Two days are required to complete a costume for one doll.

The dolls are all dressed in full, long-skirted dresses with hats to match. Their costumes are complete down to such details as flowers on the hats or bits of colored glass sewn to the dresses for jewelry.

☆ ☆ ☆

The current crocheted doll hobby of Mrs. Glenn's is not her first experience with doll manufacturing.

"Six or seven years ago," she said, "I made rag dolls—even painted their faces myself."

She made more than 200 of the dolls, which were dressed in little girl fashion.

"But these are easier to do," Mrs. Glenn said, casting an affectionate glance over a table laden with her handiwork. "The rag dolls, which were 12 inches long, used to get pretty heavy."

Mrs. Glenn lives with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Slaughter. Mrs. Slaughter revealed that the majority of the dolls are not sold to little girls, "but to big girls."

The People Speak

Old Enough To Vote

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The older generation is always saying that the future of this country is in the hands of the younger generation. Well, now at last some of us are 21 and can vote and do something about that future.

For Mr. Farris to recall the "record" is just the point. We are keeping the record in mind and I only hope we can "put on a new record" come Nov. 4.

A Cornfield Sea

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I read your Sunday editorial. In it there was a line having to do with "It takes imagination to see beauty on the prairie." I went out to imagine and it was this way, Mr. Editor:

I went to see the fields of corn,
So blue-green, strong and tall.
Alas, when I arrived at one,
It was not green at all.

The frost had fallen on the fields,
For suddenly it's fall.
The golden harvest had been plucked,
I heard a pheasant call.

And, lo, the fields were then tranformed.
There stood an Army there
Of tall young men, all khaki-clad,
Nebraska's crops are fair.

I raised my hand, saluted them
And they waved back to me
While my heart cried, "Blessings, blessings,"
Across a cornfield sea.

Why Pay More?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is a great tribute to the integrity and honor of Gen. Eisenhower that the only thing the poison-pen boys (Drew Pearson and others) can find to criticize is that he paid only the amount of tax on the money he got for his book that the income tax authorities told him he owed. Why in heck should he have paid any more? I'll bet you dollars to doughnuts that neither Drew Pearson nor Jimmy Lawrence, after the tax collector told them the exact amount of tax they owed, have ever said to the tax collector: "That isn't enough; I want to pay more!"

Drew Pearson called the Eisenhower payment of about $160,000 for the privilege of writing a book, "a bargain." That is typical of the Democratic, Socialistic way of thought. If their tax collectors don't rob us of every last cent we have, they think they have overlooked something. And how about Truman's $50,000 per year tax-free extra money that he gets in addition to his large salary and enormous expense account? Why doesn't Pearson call that a tax "bargain"?

Which Is Greater?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Could you or perhaps some one of your readers tell me and the public which is the greater amount—$178,000 or $18,000? Being an old-fashioned student of mathematics, I am of the opinion that the first is the greater. However, it seems that New Deal figures change the situation and are claiming that the latter is the greater. I personally prefer the old-time constitutional way.

Into The Final Month

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As the campaign goes into the final month, it seems that Gen. Ike is getting some millstones hung around his neck. Main object seems to be the independent voters, according to all present, and pre-convention gumbeating and experting. Also, seems that the main GOP theme was for a change of administration. So a liberal element of the GOP uprises and sloughs the nomination to the general from Taft, pre-convention hemstitching to the announced contrary notwithstanding.

Then Ike, just after nomination, takes a very dim view of certain utterances by Sens. Jenner, Kem, and McCarthy, et al, tending to infer that Gen. Marshall is a maverick American, if not an outright Commie prop. Then he reverses himself by giving tacit approval and support to each of the above senators.

Jenner has been charged with outright violation of veteran pension laws, but thus far no trial has been arranged. If senatorial immunity is that strong, please pass me a toga.

McCarthy parallels the methods of the roaring 'twenties, intimidation of the force of numbers to condemn those so chosen. McCarthy uses senatorial immunity to prevent defense of those chosen as objects of his accusations.

Then we have the Nixon episode. It seems that the general's boy is deluding himself that by giving a soap opera accounting of his extra-curricular fund, he satisfies the independent voter so eagerly wooed. To refuse any further revelations of his finances insults the intelligence of most of such voters. Surely there are numbers of them who can count over $18,000. So the general's boy becomes a Little Lord Fauntleroy.

In addition to the above, the general has dropped those who so earnestly worked for his nomination, and capitulated to the defeated nominee, giving assurance of his sincerity by accepting the Taft cohorts into the bosom of his campaign activities.

With such millstones dragging as a lavallier, one begins to wonder if the great name of Eisenhower is not dropping into an eclipse behind the Republican halo he is so earnestly laboring to wear.

Once I wanted a change, but now—?

Need For Dormitory Increase Stressed

Gustavson Addresses NU Students

The need for increasing University of Nebraska dormitory facilities to give the entire student body opportunity to experience group living was stressed Wednesday by Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, who also announced he will leave Thursday for Washington to negotiate a Federal Security Agency loan.

Speaking to an estimated 2,000 at his annual report, the chancellor pointed out that group living helps provide a "clearer understanding of the differences that exist between human beings," and that through group living students can "learn by actual experience to adjust to different points of view."

Dr. Gustavson also said he believes that the state must "give serious consideration about making possible lower tuition rates" to enable more students to have advantages of higher education.

Present tuition rates are $85 a semester.

And the chancellor turned again this year to the intercollegiate athletic situation about which he advocated de-emphasis in his report last year.

The chancellor said that intercollegiate athletics cannot be justified on the same basis of intramurals — which he believes should be greatly expanded—because they provide exercise for a relatively few and for those already physically fit.

He said that intercollegiate athletics have become a "symbol" around which the American people and the student body "pledge loyalty—not to the team because that is taken for granted—but to the University and for what it stands."

Integrity

But any symbol for a University must have integrity, he continued. He said he believed that the University has "recognized integrity as a prerequisite to intercollegiate athletics."

The chancellor went on to discuss the College of Medicine in Omaha which he says is in a "state of transition."

He told the group that the Medical College is trying to put teaching there on the same basis as in the rest of the University. In the past, he explained, the voluntary services of practicing physicians have been valuable, but these physicians no longer have the necessary time.

Research

He emphasized the importance of research, and the importance of having the College of Medicine a place where "delicate new operations can be done and difficult diagnoses made."

He praised the College of Agriculture for accepting the responsibility of experimentation toward increasing the amount of food production.

Dr. Gustavson urged continued research in Arts and Sciences College in order to continue to help solve the "great problem of integrating man and groups into society."

GUSTAVSON . . . More facilities sought.

Gothenburg Girl Is Champ 4-H Judge

Oaklander Has Show's Top Heifer

OMAHA (AP)—Barbara Sitorius, 13, an eighth-grader from Gothenburg, is the champion livestock judge among the 4-H youngsters at the Ak-Sar-Ben Stock Show. She won the honor over 90 competitors.

Runnerup in the judging of Shorthand, Angus and Hereford cattle and two classes of sheep was Vern Swartz, Graham, Mo.

Other placings in order: Allan Snell, Lincoln; Glen Hansen, Pappillion; James Ray, Atlantic, Ia., Mike Cooney, Walthill; Morris Oschner, Madison; Melvin Behlers Pender; Alvin Lee Woodward, Overton; Elwin Ranney, Weeping Water; Eugene Jacobson, Fremont; Larry Burkey, Lexington; Roger Anderson, Marne, Ia.; Allen, Yeutter, Eustis; George Allen, Lexington; Bob Wade, Elwood and Darryl Vollman, Howells.

Kenneth Anderson, 20, Oakland Neb., showed the champion hereford heifer of the show.

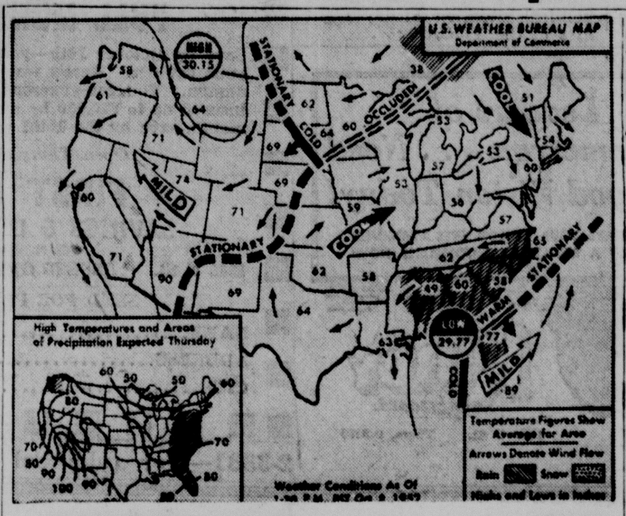

Anderson's heavyweight heifer earlier was judged grand champion of the baby beef division of the Fremont 4-H Fair. She was bred by the Bar 13 Ranch, Sheridan, Wyoming., and bought by Anderson last year.

Gordon Animal Second

Reserve honors in the Hereford heifer class went to Nancy Martin of Gordon, Neb. Other purple ribbon winners were Ronald Stork, Blair; Bob Meier, West Point; Jack Crones, Boys Town, Judy Munn, Lincoln, and Cathleen Corkle, Tilden. Miss Corkle showed two.

In the 4-H division, the Angus steer championship went to a 950 pound animal shown by Mary Body, 13, Earlham, Iowa.

Jim Larkin, 19, of Benedict, Neb., had the champion Angus heifer.

STILL WARMER—There will be rain Thursday from Pennsylvania southward to the Gulf of Mexico. Light showers or occasional drizzle is expected over the eastern half of Washington. Otherwise generally fair weather will prevail. Temperatures will show a warming tendency over the Plains states and the central valleys. (AP Wirephoto Map Wednesday Night.)

$20 Billion Slash In National Budget Advocated By Dell

LEXINGTON, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Dwight Dell, independent candidate for U.S. Senate, Wednesday pointed out in a radio address that it is now taking $462 per person to support the national budget.

Dell said he favors cutting the national budget by $20 billion, the main portion of which should come out of the military.

Dell pointed out that Sen. Butler in an address at McCook favored the cutting of the budget by $20 billion. Dell raised the question of how he proposes to do this when he has voted for all increases in military apportionments and favors Universal Military Training and the draft.

Dell said that many people feel that Butler no longer represents their interests and that his leadership has not been aggressive.

Frost Damage To State Spuds At $500,000

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—The chief of the Nebraska Potato Development Division thinks the early morning freeze Monday will cost Nebraska potato growers something like a half million dollars.

Earl Barrios, the potato division head, said that 60 per cent of the 35,000-acre Western Nebraska potato crop has been harvested. He estimated 10 per cent of the remaining 40 per cent was destroyed by the hard freeze.

Barrios said he'll have a better idea of the damage Friday. He explained soft rot which develops in potatoes which have been frozen shows up after two or three days of warm weather.

The freezing temperatures which took their toll of potatoes also stopped the growth of sugar beets but did not damage the crop, said M. S. Clement, manager of the Scottsbluff and Gering factory districts of the Great Western Sugar Company.

Proposed Lutheran Merger Discussed

OMAHA (AP) — The proposed merger of the Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa Conferences of the Augustana Lutheran Church was discussed Wednesday.

Representatives of the three conferences met in conjunction with the annual pastoral conference for Nebraska ministers. No final decision or recommendation was made during the initial meeting.

Heading the sessions were Rev. Reynold Lingwall, president of the Iowa Conference; Rev. Everett Hedeen, president of the Kansas Conference, and Rev. Sabin Swenson, Nebraska church head.

1,125 Musicians Are Expected At Norfolk

NORFOLK, Neb. (INS)—A visit to Norfolk by the United States Navy Band Oct. 16 will be the occasion for a northeast Nebraska Band Day in which 25 high schools and the Wayne, Neb., Teachers College will participate.

The Norfolk Chamber of Commerce said the 26 bands will include an estimated 1,125 musicians.

Essay Contest Winner To See Inauguration

OMAHA (AP)—Some Nebraska high school student and chaperon will have an opportunity to see the next President of the United States inaugurated in Washington in January.

Bernard J. Boyle, Omaha, Democratic national committeeman for Nebraska, announced that the winner of an essay contest would be assured a trip to the inauguratio.

The title of the essay will be: "Why Adlai Stevenson should be President of the United States."

$250 Plus Tickets

The first prize will be $250 in cash and two round trip railroad tickets to attend the inauguration. The winner also will be taken on a personally conducted tour of the White House and visit other places of historic interest in Washington.

Altogether, prizes total $575 in cash. All entries must be postmarked not later than Nov. 1. They should be addressed to the Stevenson for President Contest Committee, 210 South Eighteenth Street, Omaha.

Judges for the contest are Dr. LeRoy T. Laase, University of Nebraska; Rev. Austin E. Miller, S.J., Creighton University, and Herbert L. Cushing, president State Teachers College, Kearney.

Rites Friday For Cozad Contractor

COZAD, Neb. (AP) — Funeral services for Frank G. Griffin, 71-year-old building contractor here for the past 30 years, will be held at the Cozad Methodist Church Friday afternoon. He died Wednesday in a hospital here.

Griffin was taken to the hospital two days ago after suffering a paralytic stroke. He had been in failing health for two years.

Missouri Basin Development Price Tag Jumps To $11 Billion

Nebraska's $2 Billion Tops States

By The Associated Press

The price tag on the giant job—now in progress—of developing land and water resources of the Missouri River Basin has climbed to 11 billion dollars.

This is an increase of nearly 1¾ billion over the estimates made just a year ago.

The increase results largely from the general increase in prices. But there also are some changes and modifications in the development plan since last year because of the unprecedented floods last April.

The new estimates were disclosed Wednesday in a tentative report, subject to revision, prepared for the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee and released in connection with the committee's meeting in Bismarck, N. D.

Nebraska, the only state lying wholly within the basin, shares most heavily in the total estimated cost of basin works, with more than two billion dollars mapped for expenditure in the state.

Of the $2,091,437,000 estimated total cost in Nebraska, $268,766,000 had been spent up to last July 1 and $44,722,000 is available in the current fiscal year.

In the next six years, fund requirements of about 80 million dollars a year are envisioned for Nebraska.

The report is prepared annually It charts the money that will be needed in each of the next six years, tells how much has been spent already and how much will be needed altogether. Breakdowns by states and agencies are included.

The new report estimates the total cost of the basin program at $11,087,153,000, an increase of $1,715,256,000 over the previous report.

$1 Billion Spent

A total of $1,318,195,000 has been spent up to last July 1, and $366,914,000 is available for spending in the current fiscal year ending next July 1.

Thus, by next July 1, expenditures will constitute 15 per cent of the total cost of the program.

In the six years following next July 1, a little more than three billion dollars will be needed, the report estimates. The heaviest needs under the program will come in fiscal year 1956 when $571,087,000 will be required, or more than 50 per cent more than the money available this current fiscal year.

From an expenditure standpoint' the program will be less than half finished by the end of the fiscal year 1959—nearly seven years from now. As presently mapped out, the expenditures by then would total about four billion, eaving seven billion still to be spent.

The Bureau of Reclamation, subdivision of the Department of Interior, had completed 13 major water shortage dams in the basin as of last July 1. These included Enders and Medicine Creek dams in Nebraska. Nine more dams, including Trenton in Nebraska, are under construction.

COLLEGE'S FATE WEIGHED—In Lincoln to talk over the future of York College were these leaders of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. They are (l. to r.) seated, Bishop D. T. Gregory, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Bishop I. D. Warner, Los Angeles; standing are Dr. L. L. Huffman, Dayton, O., publisher of the Otterbein Press; Dr. O. T. Deever, Dayton, O., associate secretary of the Board of Christian Education; President Walter E. Bachman of York College; Dr. Stanley William, Dayton, O., president of Home Missions; and Dr. L. L. Baughman, Dayton, O., executive secretary of the Council of Administration. (Star Photo.)

York College Budget Needs Are Discussed

Budget requirements of York College were discussed at a two-day meeting in Lincoln of officials of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Church officials will follow their Lincoln gathering with a meeting with college trustees at York on Thursday. Bishop D. T. Gregory of Pittsburgh, presiding over the Lincoln sessions, said details of the group's studies here would be revealed by the trustees after the Thursday meeting.

Included in the discussions here was a study of the part that should be played by the various conferences in this area in support of the college.

Bishop Gregory said his group was acting in an advisory capacity only and had no authority to take any legal or binding action. Church officials from eight states and as far away as California attended the Lincoln meeting.

The group heard an address by Dr. G. W. Rosenlof of the University of Nebraska, president of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. York is seeking to meet the accrediting standards of that group.

GOP Contributions Coming In Earlier Declares Treasurer

OMAHA (AP)—Contributions to the Republican National Committee have been coming in earlier this year than in any other campaign year, the party's treasurer said Wednesday.

R. Douglas Stuart, national committee treasurer, credited the improvement to better organization. He was in Omaha to meet with members of the Nebraska Republican Finance committee.

At a news conference the finance group reported that Nebraska has raised 41 per cent of its $200,000 quota and Douglas County largest in the state, has raised 65 per cent of its quota.

Conferring with Stuart, who also is vice chafrman of the Quaker Oats Company, were Joseph S. Wishart, Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska Republican finance committee, John H. Agee of Lincoln, Guy L. Cooper Sr., of Humboldt, and Paul S. Kruger of Fort Calhoun.

Democrats Favored To Retain Control Of Next Senate

Party Chiefs Looking For Close Presidential Race

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Democratic Party is a heavy favorite today to retain organization control of the next Senate, unless Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower leads the Republican Party to a nation-

The Democrats have a shorter road to Senate victory and, with most party chieftains expecting the presidential outcome to be close, the odds in the Senate contests favor the party in power.

An INS survey shows that top political leaders at national and state levels are frankly baffled over who will win on Nov. 4th, and that 21 states with 301 electoral votes—more than enough to win the presidency—are considered "battleground states."

There are 34 Senate contests in November, for seats now held by 15 Democrats and 19 Republicans. This Republican plurality is due to a great GOP landslide in the off-year 1946 election which swept the GOP into power in both branches of Congress.

GOP Must Elect 21

With a Republican already elected in Maine, the Democrats have 34 holdover senators to a total now of 28 for the Republicans. Hence the Democrats must elect only 15 senators to retain Senate control while the Republicans must elect 21 to change that power.

Democrats are either cinch winners or given a real edge in 10 contests this fall, while the Republicans appear to have eight "in the bag" with a good edge in four more. This would leave the Democrats five short of victory and the Republicans nine for switching Senate control.

That puts control of the new Senate up to the outcome of the remaining 12 races in 11 states. These contests are in Michigan, where the GOP is slightly ahead and in Indiana, Massachusetts, Missouri and Washington, where the Democrats have a slight edge. There are tossup battles in the other contests including two in Connecticut, one each in Delaware, Maryland, Montana, Utah and Wyoming.

"Certain" Winners

The Democrats must win five while the Republicans must capture nine of these 12 contests to win control of the new Senate. It gives the Democrats a big edge, as they now hold five of the 12, with the GOP holding but seven.

In seven contests, Democrats appear to be certain winners. They are Sen. McFarland in Arizona; Sen. Holland in Florida; Sen. Stennis in Mississippi; Sen. Pastore in Rhode Island; Sen. Byrd in Virginia; Rep. Gore in Tennessee to replace Sen. McKellar, and Ex-Gov. Price Daniel to replace Sen. Connally in Texas.

Eight Republicans seem to be sure winners. They are Sen. Knowland in California; Sen. Thye in Minnesota; Sen. Butler and Ex-Gov. Dwight Griswold in Nebraska; Sen. Langer in North Dakota; Sen. Flanders in Vermont and Sen. McCarthy in Wisconsin.

LT. LEE DONG YUP, former North Korean security officer at Panmunjom, who took advantage of the neutral zone to surrender to allied forces, said that Russian pilots have flown some of the MIG fighters shot down by American pilots over North Korea. He also said that Soviet advisers have been serving with Communist forces, including such capacities as installation and operation of radar-controlled anti-aircraft batteries. (International.)

Rental Listings In City Increase; Inquiries Decrease

According to figures at the Lincoln Board of Realtors' rental referral desk, 216 No. 11th, the number of apartment and home-for-rent listings at the desk since March 1, 1952 is on the increase while the number of inquiries from potential renters is on the decrease.

The rental referral desk, with Mrs. Lois Hillyer in charge, had 703 units listed for rent on Sept. 30.

Since March 1, 1952, according to figures at the desk, 1,368 inquiries on rental units were received and 1,106 apartments and homes were listed for rent.

During the same period 395 rental units, which were listed with the desk, were later reported rented. Twenty-seven persons called the desk to lower the rent on previously listed units and four called to notify the desk of an increase in rent.

Visitors Allowed For Nazi Bigwigs

BONN, Germany (AP)—Life has been made easier for the seven top Nazis serving war crimes sentences in Spandau prison in Berlin, the Western Allies announced Wednesday night.

The three Western high commissioners said they have obtained the agreement of Russian Gen. U. I. Chuikov to more visits and letters for the one-time leaders of the Reich.

The seven prisoners are Rudolf Hess, Adm. Walter Doenitz, Adm. Erich Raeder, Baron Constantin von Neurath, Baldu von Shirach, Walter Funk and Albert Speer.

Breach Of Contract Case Is Dismissed

District Judge John Kuns dismissed the breach of contract case brought by Lucille Goodman against Arthur E. Talcott et al Tuesday after Talcott's lawyer moved for dismissal on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

The attorney's claim that Mrs. Goodman did not have enough evidence to prosecute the case was accepted by the judge.

Mrs. Goodman was suing for a judgment of $661.80 plus court costs. Her petition alleged that she was hired as an elementary school teacher for School District 30 on July 26, 1950, for the full term. Her contract was terminated on Jan. 26, 1951.

The defendents were the members of the school board of that district.

Republican Record On Farm Votes Is Blasted By President

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

SHENANDOAH, Ia.—In 2 to 1 Republican Page County, the center of the party strength in the state, President Harry S. Truman challenged the agricultural section to consider facts and then determine which political party had given fairest consideration to farm problems.

After a mile long trip through Shenandoah main streets heading the city's Harvest Jubilee parade, where state safety patrolmen and secret service operatives estimated nearly 35,000 persons watched, the President spoke to 10,000 or 12,000 at the high school athletic field.

Quipping that Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who rode in the middle of the parade, had changed his speaking time from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. "so he'd have a crowd," he urged his listeners to give the senator a hearing so that both party platforms and actions on farm programs could be understood.

"Let's look at the record," the President urged in pointing out the Republican platform planks on agriculture, the votes of Republicans in Congress and the farm speeches of the GOP candidates.

"The Republican candidate's farm speeches are unbelievable," President Truman said. "They are a conglomeration of generalities, platitudes, half truths and plain misrepresentation.

"He makes the baldest attempt to steal the Democratic record that I have ever seen." The President said the Republican nominee has claimed that the farm programs of the last 20 years have been on a "non-partisan basis" and "overwhelmingly supported" by the Republican party.

His sharpest attack on the GOP standard bearer followed when he said, "This just goes to show that in the field of agriculture, as in so many other fields, the General doesn't know much about what's been going on in the United States during the 40 years he's been in the Army."

He then quoted the Republican record saying:

"The first Triple-A program was opposed by two-thirds of the Republican in the House of Representatives. Large majorities of Republicans voted against the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of 1936. The Triple-A of 1938, which is still our basic price support legislation, was opposed by Republicans in Congress 5 to 1.

"The Eightieth Congress did a lot of things, which most of you understood when you voted four years ago. That Republican Congress cut the soil conservation program, and the Republicans in the House of Representatives voted 12 to 1 to kill the Agricultural Conservation Program entirely.

"The Republicans are mad now because I put the finger right on the trouble in 1948 and told the American people who was fighting them. Some are even telling big lies, now about what happened in '48. But I know they can't fool the farmers—you had personal knowledge of what happened.

"First, there's the position of the 80th Congress that gave you the sliding scale of support levels ranging down to as low as 60 per cent of parity. Why, even in 1932 farm prices low as they were still averaged about 60 per cent of parity.

"Second, there's the position taken in the 1952 platform. The key sentence in the Republican platform reads as follows: "We favor a farm program aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place."

"You've been left to the tender mercies of the market place before. That's where you went broke about 20 years ago!

The last sally brought a shout from a farmer in the crowd. "Give 'em hell, Harry."

The President again referred to Gen. Eisenhower's views on farm policies when he said:

"The third position is that taken by the Republican candidate at Kasson, Minnesota. He said you didn't have to pay any attention to the Republican Party's platform. He said that price support at 90 per cent of parity is fair and he'll support it until 1954." This brought a laugh from the crowd.

DEMOCRATS

DENVER (INS) — A poll of presidential preferences of Colorado and Wyoming farmers today showed Stevenson leading Eisenhower by a slim margin.

Adlai Has Poll Edge

The Rocky Mountain unit of the National Farmers Union announced the results of a mail survey of one-fifth of their 19,000 members in two states.

Twenty-six per cent, or about 1,000 members answered the questionnaire. They gave the Democratic candidate 44.8 per cent, the GOP candidate 44.6 per cent. Ten and six-tenths per cent were undecided.

Seventy per cent of those answering thought the political makeup of the next Congress was more important than the presidential selection in shaping future farm programs.

Sixty-seven per cent agreed that supports should be extended to hogs, eggs, milk and fruit.

Forty-seven per cent said the present 90 per cent price support parity was about right, 32.6 per cent thought it was too low.

More than 91 per cent said they thought only 10 per cent of the farms which now have electricity would have had it if there had been no Rural Electrification Administration.

REPUBLICANS

DENVER (INS) — The GOP "Truth Squad" arrived in Denver Wednesday charging President Truman's attack on Eisenhower's fitness for the presidency stems from the general's unwillingness to be a puppet.

GOP Squad Trails HST

Sens. Millikin, Hickenlooper and Ferguson, who call themselves the GOP "Truth Squad" are following Truman's whistle-stop tour through Utah and Colorado assailing what they term the president's "misrepresentations."

Sen. Millikin declared that Truman's test of a candidate is always:

"Is the man qualified to be a member of the Pendergast machine?"

Millikin added the chief executive changed his mind about Eisenhower's fitness for the presidency because "the general won't play running dog with him."

Sen. Hickenlooper added: "When Truman made the statement on Eisenhower's fitness two or three years ago, he was under the impression that Ike would be a captive of the New Deal, but the general has given ample evidence that he is not a captive candidate.

Ferguson said: "One of the big tests of the Crony Express is that a man must be a Charley McCarthy while Truman plays the role of Bergen."

Polio Contributions Put Dent Into Homecoming Display

By JOAN KRUEGER
Star Staff Writer

Nebraskans who have become accustomed to the colorful and elaborate University of Nebraska Homecoming house displays won't be disappointed this year even though students have connected the tradition with polio contributions.

Although the number of displays will be less than the 39 of a year ago, most organized houses on campus will construct displays and enter the traditional decoration competition.

The question of whether to donate the money generally earmarked for decorations to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, came into the picture when Tau Kappa Epsilon turned over its $50 to polio. The action by this men's social fraternity followed a move promulgated at Kansas State College.

In turn, three other houses, International House, Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Omicron Pi, also turned over their decoration money to polio.

This created the question on campus whether there would be a Homecoming display. A series of events by various campus individuals and organizations, including the student newspaper, The Daily Nebraskan, led to the following compromise:

First, sponsors of the house displays, the Innocents Society, senior men's honorary, announced that it would turn over to the Foundation the $5 registration fee required from each house entering competition in order to preserve the displays. The expense of the contest would be assumed by Innocents, President Don Noble of Holdrege explained.

According to Noble, the amount designated to polio would total about $200—depending on the number of houses entering competition. Tentative plans call for presentation of a check during intermission at the Homecoming Dance.

The second result came at a meeting of sorority house presidents who decided to accept the proposals by Innocents Society and continue with decorations. In addition, it was proposed that houses wishing to donate more to polio, undertake special projects.

Thus, a compromise between continuing the campus tradition and donating to polio was reached.

Editorial comment in the Daily Nebraskan previously favored such action purporting that "keeping one of few traditions in force on campus," was important.

Homecoming is scheduled for Nov. 15 with the house display competition taking place the previous evening. Last year's winners were Sigma Chi and Alpha Xi Delta.

Judge Delehant Orders Lincolnite To Serve 2 Years

Virgil Earl Miller, 25, Lincoln, was removed from probation and ordered to serve his two year prison term by order of Federal Judge John W. Delehant.

Miller was first indicted on Feb. 5, 1949, on six counts of forging endorsements of payees on U. S. Bonds and cashing them.

The sentence was suspended and Miller was placed on probation for two years and ordered to make restitution. His probationary period was extended for two additional years in 1951.

On Aug. 26, the Chief Federal Probation Officer, Edmund T. Dolan, Omaha, reported that Miller failed to make his regular reports at the probation office, failed to make restitution payments, and charged items on his father's charge accounts without his consent.

Shively Attending Traffic Institute Refresher Course

Inspector J. Paul Shively of the Lincoln Police Department left for Evanston, Ill., this week for a refresher course at the nationally famed traffic institute on the Northwestern University campus.

Shively, recently promoted to the rank of inspector, attended and received a diploma from the institute in its first graduating class in 1936. Reporting on the approaching trip, Shively said studies in recent years have greatly broadened the scope of attacking traffic problems in cities.

U.S. Envoy Sees Oatis

Imprisoned Newsman Appears In Good Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Czechoslovakia jailors of William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent, have permitted him to have a second meeting with an American Embassy official, Secretary of State Acheson disclosed Wednesday.

The newsman is held on a "spy" conviction which the American government has denounced as a frameup.

At the meeting, which took place Tuesday at police headquarters in Prague, Oatis was assured that he has "not been forgotten" and that efforts to obtain his release are being pressed, Acheson said.

The embassy official, Counselor Nat B. King, reported that Oatis "appeared in about the same physical and mental condition as when he was last seen" by Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs on April 30. Oatis said at that time that his health was good.

These have been the only conferences the Czechs have allowed Oatis to have with American representatives since the newsman was first imprisoned nearly 18 months ago.

Acheson read a summary of King's report at his news conference. Then, asked whether the new developemnt indicated that Oatis might soon be freed, he said no conclusion should be drawn one way or another about such a prospect.

The talk with King, like the meeting with Ambassador Briggs, was held in the presence of Czech officials, Acheson said.

At his trial last year Oatis was sentenced to a maximum of 10 years in prison on a verdict that in his work as a news correspondent he engaged in espionage and other activities hostile to the Communist regime.

Mouse Bites Cat

IRWIN, Idaho (AP)—Three onlookers say this happened: The big white tom cat belonging to George Clark attempted to catch a mouse. The rodent leaped up and bit the cat on the neck. The astonished cat shook the mouse loose and fled down the street.

63rd, Adams Traffic Causes School Crossing Problem

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Another problem has been added to the long list of difficulties accompanying the sudden growth in northeast Lincoln.

Parents with small children attending the Northeast High School child care center are concerned over the safety of their children crossing Adams at 63rd. The residential growth in that area has caused an increase in the general traffic flow and Adams has been paved from the west to Cotner boulevard to handle the increase.

Parents of the area have noticed an increase of speeding on Adams and an increase in the use of the street by commercial vehicles, particularly construction company trucks.

At the last meeting of parents, Lincoln's traffic rating and problems were explained by Capt. Clinton Hurd of the Police Department and Lloyd Jenkins, public schools safety director. About 40 mothers and fathers attended.

Sentiment expressed by the group was in favor of a four-way stop at 63rd and Adams. Sixty-third is now a stop street from both the north and south.

According to Capt. Hurd, however, stop signs are not used to slow down speeders but, rather, to handle excessive amounts of traffic which could not safely get through an intersection under normal conditions.

School stop signs are in use throughout the city, admitted Capt. Hurd, "but only until something better can be devised."

According to Capt. Hurd, the answer to the 63rd and Adams problem is the expansion and organization of the adult crossing guard program now practiced by parents in the area.

"Parents, working through the PTA," said Hurd, "should be furnished uniforms to wear while guarding children crossing the intersection. The parents would not direct traffic, but would watch for an opportunity or opening for the children to get across the street."

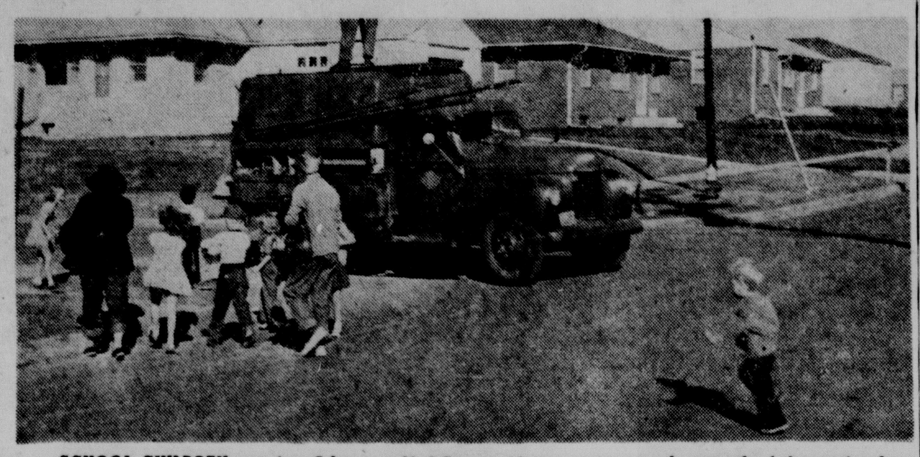

The children attending the center, according to Mrs. Robert Mickle, principal of the center, are being met now at the 63rd and Adams crossing by some of the parents.

Mrs. Mickel viewed the problem as one of the consequences to be expected from the residential development.

"We are forgetting," said Mrs. Mickle, "that we are not out in the country anymore."

Parents with children living north of Adams attending the center have shown the most concern. The center accepts children for admittance from as far away as Gladstone to the north.

Mrs. Mickle described the parents' meeting as "very co-operative" and thanked Jenkins and Capt. Hurd for their appearance and advice.

Police On Watch For Sharpshooters Carrying BB-Guns

A party of juvenile Buffalo Bills have been doing their nandiwork on pane glasses in Lincoln this week with rather irritating effects.

Panes in two homes and one service station were pock-marked Tuesday night by BB-gun experts who the police commented they would like to get their hands on.

Auto Theft Charge To Trial Thursday

William L. T. Metz, charged with auto theft, will come up for trial Thursday as the second case on the current criminal docket for the jury term.

Members of the jury were impanelled Wednesday afternoon and include the following persons:

Ralph W. Smith, 1818 So. 26th.
Mrs. Roberta K. Cody, 3060 T.
Mrs. Ruth B. Finney, 2100 Park.
B. C. Grabill, 3301 Sewell.
Martin H. Baker, 3219 D.

$25,000 Judgment Asked In District Court Suit

Mollie Faust, 803 No. 7th, filed a petition in District Court Wednesday which asks that she be awarded $25,000 accident damages from Nelson Minchow, Hertz-Drive-Ur-Self Stations, Inc., and the owners of the Standard Market.

Mrs. Faust claims, in her petition, that a truck owned by the car rental station and driven by Minchow while he was employed by the Standard Market ran into the car in which she was a passenger on Sept. 1, 1951.

The car, according to the petition's claims, was stopped for traffic on 10th Street between Avery and Charleston streets.

Mrs. Faust received injuries to her chest, spine, ligaments and nerves as a result of the accident.

Truce Talks Nearer Collapse Than At Any Time Since They Began In July, '51

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The long and frustrating Korean armistice negotiations Thursday appeared to be nearer collapse than at any time since they began on July 10, 1951.

The Allied decision Wednesday to call an indefinite recess was made on "higher authority" and came at a time when fighting in Korea reached its fiercest pitch in a year.

A special North Korean broadcast heard in Tokyo referred to "the failure" of the negotiations, charged that the Allies ignored a new Red offer, and declared responsibility "lies on the U. S."

It complained that the Allied delegation walked out while the new Red plan was being explained. Text of the broadcast showed, however, the Communists had not budged from their position that all prisoners of war must be repatriated, the last major issue remaning.

Officials in Washington said the "higher authority" was the U. S. government, which presumably acted after consulting other United Nations with troops in Korea.

Decision Left to Reds

Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference the suspension was "an affirmative step toward obtaining an armistice." He added the Allied team was ready to meet whenever the Communists agree to "an honest settlement" of the prisoner of war question.

The Allies left it squarely up to the Communists to revive the negotiations or let them die over the one unsolved issue of repatriating prisoners of war.

LOOK OUT, GENERAL—Dwight D. Eisenhower, in lead car, ducks just in time as a mass of ticker tape comes hurtling down on his auto parading past thousands in the financial district after his arrival in San Francisco Wednesday. The GOP presidential candidate is just to the left of the falling ball of tape. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

City Chamber Trying For NY Industry

New York industrialists and other businessmen interested in establishing factories or other enterprises in Nebraska in general and Lincoln in particular are being interviewed in New York this week by Wayne Dawson, business expansion committee secretary of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Dawson is with Charles V. Price, director of the Division of Nebraska resources.

Judge Delehant In Hospital To Check On Visual Problem

Federal Judge John W. Delehant has been admitted to St. Elizabeth's Hospital to undergo observation for a vision problem.

The petit jury which was called to report for duty Monday is postponed indefinitely, according to the judge's secretary.

Judge Delehant was undergoing a routine physical examination Wednesday morning when the vision difficulty was noticed. Indications are that the malady is not serious, the judge's staff reported.

Ten Applications Set For Zone Appeals Board

Seven applications for changes in zoning on seven properties are among the 10 zoning applications to be considered by the City Zoning Board of Appeals at its 2:30 p.m. meeting Thursday at the City Hall.

The changes to local business, none of which have been protested to date, are:

Ike Grasping For Votes, Stevenson Says

Milwaukee Greeting Is Enthusiastic

MILWAUKEE—Gov. Adlai Stevenson rapped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday night as grasping for votes with an about-face on European policy—and displaying lack of backbone with a nameless endorsement of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin.

"My opponent," Stevenson said, "has been worrying about my funnybone. I'm worrying about his backbone."

In an address prepared for delivery at the Milwaukee Arena, Stevenson went after Eisenhower this way on American policy in Europe:

GOP Tactics

"No other issue reveals more strikingly the tactics in this election of the Republican leadership—the use of one man's good name to camouflage a bad record, and that man's willingness to compromise his own views in opportunistic grasping for support in this election."

The Illinois governor arrived in Milwaukee just after dusk after an 85-mile motorcade from Madison. And a yelling, waving crowd turned out here with probably the biggest supply of "America needs Stevenson" placards he has seen anywhere during his campaign.

The turnout was big enough to gum up traffic and even stop it at several points. Estimates of the crowd strung along the 10-odd miles through the city ranged from a local reporter's 20,000 to Sheriff Herman Kubiak's 100,000.

A whoop-it-up audience that almost filled the Milwaukee Arena set up a tremendous roar. The hall was set up to seat 13,000 and only in the smoky reaches of the farthest balconies were there any empty seats.

Ike's Audience Smaller

Eisenhower drew a somewhat smaller audience in the same spot last Friday night.

Stevenson said his GOP rival actively backed every development in U. S. policy toward Europe from 1945 to 1952, then became a presidential candidate and "overnight he changed his mind about what he stood for."

Eisenhower gave a blanket endorsement to the GOP ticket—including McCarthy—on his visit to Wisconsin last week. He appeared publicly with the senator, said he differed with him on methods, but did not endorse him by name.

McCarthy is a campaign storm center because of the way he has made his charges of Communist penetration of the government. Democrats say he has used smear tactics without producing proof.

He went on to say:

"I disagree squarely, however, with those who think the way to do this is by firing a sawed-off shotgun into a whole group of public servants if there is a rumor that one among them is evil."

Registration Hours Extended

Looking forward to a possible registration of 52,000 persons, the office of the election commissioner will remain open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning next Monday.

On Saturday, Oct. 18, the office will extend its regular noon closing hour to 5 p.m. On the following Saturday, the registration deadline, the office will close at 12 noon.

"We have two things in mind," said Election Commissioner Harold Gillett, "in extending the office hours. First, we want to try to avoid the last minute rush which puts us so far behind in our work; and, second, we want to give people who work days every opportunity to register.."

Gillett recalled that in the three days prior to the registration deadline for the April primary, there were about 1,500 registrations a day.

Gillett also looks for a heavy registration from now to the Oct. 25 deadline. In view of the 49,234 persons already registered, the election commissioner has upped his estimate of the final registration figure from 50,000 to 52,000.

The breakdown on the total registration figure shows there are 29,502 Republicans, 18,422 Democrats and 1,310 non-political.

Mrs. Frances Keep, 73, Dies At Local Hospital

Mrs. Frances S. Keep, 73, of 2001 So. 14th, died Wednesday evening at a local hospital.

Survivors include a son, Harry L. Keep of Great Bend, Kan., and a sister, Mrs. Anna Smith of Lincoln.

'Borderline Mental Cases Hindrance To Armed Forces'

Scraping the bottom of the manpower barrel by drafting borderline mental cases may be a hindrance rather than a help to the armed services.

A report made by Dr. Cecil L. Wittson, director of the University of Nebraska Psychiatric Unit, in conjunction with Dr. William A. Hunt and Mrs. Edna B. Hunt of Northwestern University, in the September issue of the American Journal of Psychiatry, shows that even when these men complete three years of service and receive an honorable discharge, they cause trouble while in service.

For the report, a study was made of the causes of 628 men who were held in an observation ward before beginning naval raining.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sexton Will Be Saturday

Mrs. Margaret Ellen Sexton, 74, Rt. 1, Lincoln, died Wednesday at a local hospital.

Survivors include her husband, William; a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Struble, Lincoln; a foster daughter, Mrs. Colleen Snider, Lincoln; two step-daughters, Mrs. William Popke, Lead, S. Dak., and Mrs. G. W. Tanquary, Lincoln; three step-sons, Robert and Edward Sexton, both of Lincoln, and James of Buffalo, Wyo.; five grandchildren; 12 great grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mary Miller, DeWitt; three half-sisters, Mrs. Della Salla, Lincoln; Mrs. Alice Sidner, Chicago, and Mrs. Mattie Waldow, Los Angeles, Calif., and a half-brother, Oscar Farber of Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at Umberger's Chapel. Rev. Robert Nilson will officiate, and Harry Pierce will sing.

Off To A Flying Start

Introducing— The Grant B. Carters

With so many of the better television programs temporarily on vacation, America was turning once again to radio when we called on the Carters, our new neighbors from Soiux Falls, S. D. A traveling man, whose domain includes southern Nebraska and northern Kansas, Mr. Carter's ware are surgical and hospital supplies and take him out of the city only a few nights each week. In this business for almost twenty-three years now, Mr. Carter has found the time to kindle his wife's interest on the golf course, but has given up tennis and bowling for a while until his schedule tames down a bit. He was a Jaycee in Sioux Falls, (a member of the board of directors,) and with his wife was very active civicly.

A member of the Presbyterian Church in South Dakota. Mrs. Carter did a great share of her extra curricular work in the church circle. She enjoys the outdoors and maintained their entire lawn and garden, when they had one! Her repertory includes a bit of everything besides cooking and general domestic activities. . .upohlstering, painting (both exterior and interior!) sewing, knitting, rug braiding, bridge, entertaining, and if she completes her summer project, furniture, refinishing! In Sioux Falls, she was not only an avid golfer, but the president of the Laides' Golf association.

The Carter's home at 1903 Park avenue naturally puts twelve year-old Sheila in the Irving Junior high school district, where she will be in the seventh grade this fall. A crack student, but somewhat of a outdoor girls, Sheila is a good athlete, adores her dog, Cindy, and is the proud possessor an electric train. She has abandoned her collection of "Storybook" dolls for one of miniature horses. Sheila is the only child now that her sister, Anita (now Mrs. Edwin Caldwell of Sioux Falls) is married and busy with two children of her own.

THERE'S NOTHING like news to get the day off to a flying start —and this morning we have news, news, and more news— Some of it has to do with the football week-end coming up —Some of it has to do with guests—the non-football variety—There are parties for this reason and that—and travelers—

* * *

ONE OF THE very important reasons for one of the festive parties is the fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. William Stoner on Sunday, October 12.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stoner, whose anniversary really is on Tuesday, October 14, their son, Robert, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Stoner Jr., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sherwood, will be hosts and hostesses at a 5 o'clock family dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stoner Sr.

Guests at the affair will include Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, Omaha; Mrs. M. R. Sherwood, Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stamm of Papillion; Mrs. Mauley Beardsley, Mullen; Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stoner, Mrs. L. H. Stoner, Mrs. L. R. Stoner and Dr. and Mrs. Schuyler Brown, all of Lincoln.

* * *

MENTION OF Mr. and Mrs. Stoner Jr., reminds us that they returned a day or two ago from Fort Smith, Ark., where they visited Mrs. Stoner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Mendell Archerd (Jackie Becker). Incidentally Mrs. Archerd is keeping herself busy as a substitute teacher in the Fort Smith schools while Mr. Archerd is in basic training.

* * *

OUR WEEK-END news, of course, involves guests who will be in town for the game— such as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Roth and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wood of Salina, Kas., who will be the week-end guests of Mr. Roth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Roth.

* * *

HEARD, TOO, that Mrs. Spray Gardner of Omaha is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wardner Scott, and that she will be joined in Lincoln by Mr. Gardner who will arrive in time for the game and who will spend the remainder of the week-end here.

* * *

OUR NON-FOOTBALL guests that we mentioned are Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Castle who arrived on Tuesday from Knoxville, Tenn., to spend two or three weeks as the house guests of Mrs. Castle's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. de Brown.

* * *

AND SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Irwin Frey and her daughter, Miss Winona Frey of McAllen, Tex., arrived in Lincoln Tuesday, and during their veery brief stay are the house guests of Mrs. Arthur Yost.

* * *

THE SATURDAY games is not the incentive for all of the activity around town on Saturday night—For instance there is the picnic supper for which Mr. and Mrs. James P. Edee, Miss Nancy Stebbins and Gene Gessner will be host and hostesses in the garden at Miss Stebbin's home, when the honorees will be Mr. and Mrs. Burkett Van Kirk (Ann Morris) whose marriage took place in Clarksburg, W. V., early in September. A small group of guests has been invited for the supper and an informal evening.

* * *

HAVE SOMETHING to tell you, and we'd better do it right now before it slips through our fingers—understand that Miss Judy Gosnell, daughter of the Rev. Harold Gosnell and a freshman at the University of Texas at Austin, has pledged Pi Beta Phi.

* * *

LEAVING ON Wednesday to return to their home in Washington, D. C., were Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Eastabrook and and their four children, John, Margaret, James and David, who have been spending the past several days as the guests of Mrs. Estabrook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Estabrook came West from Washington about a month ago, but the first two weeks of their holiday were spent at Grand Lake, Colo., where they were joined by Mrs. Estabrook's parents, and also her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mills and their two children, Nancy and Barbara.

* * *

HEAR THAT Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stebbins returned home on Monday from Lake Forest, Ill., where their daughter, Ann, is attending Ferry Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins left last Friday morning for Lake Forest, and after attending all of the festivities pertaining to "Parents' Week-end" at the school, they took a brief trip into Wisconsin.

To Honor Y-Teens

The women of the Havelock Center will be hostesses at the annual candlelight dinner honoring members of the Y-Teens Clubs, on Friday evening, at 6 o'clock at the center. The girls will dedicate chocolates for Korea at this time.

Women of the Havelock Y.W.C.A. council in charge of the dinner are: Mrs. L. A. Webster, Mrs. Guy Brooks, Mrs. Merna Young, Mrs. E. L. Wollen, Mrs. William Sallee, Mrs. W. E. Garrett, Mrs. J. G. Wright, Mrs. R. H. Czapanskiy, Mrs. E. L. Sommer, Mrs. George Maull Jr., Mrs. Clarence Cole and Mrs. L. W. Frahm.

Altrusa Club Tells Chairmen

The altrusa club met Monday evening for a dinner at the University Club, after which the group held workshops to plan the programs for the coming year. Mrs. Perdita Mockett, president, presided.

Chairmen for the various workshops are as follows: program, Miss Mary Chapin; publicity and inter-club council representative, Miss Norma Carpenter; better films, Mrs. Hazel Smith; courtesy, Mrs. Della Rundle and Miss Maude Rousseau; by-laws, Miss Virginia Zimmer; classification and membership, Mrs. Betty Thorson and Mrs. Louella Coble, finance, Miss Helen Stacy and public affairs, Miss Audrey Wheeler.

Other chairmen include: international relations, Mrs. Mary S. Archerd; Altrusa information, Miss Amy Reed; ways and means, Miss Esther Eisenbarth; career conference, Mrs. Grace Morning; recruitment of nurses, Miss Nina Lamkin; Christmas party, Mrs. Coris Cihlar, and spring party, Mrs. Mabel Thompson.

Tea To Honor Housemother

The Theta Xi Mothers and Wives club will meet at the chapter house on Friday afternoon, October 10 for a 2 o'clock tea, honoring the new housemother and the mothers of the new pledges.

The committee consists of the chairman, Mrs. Paul Barker, Mrs. H. C. Spahn and the officers of the club who are: president, Mrs. L. R. Lichtenberg; vice president, Mrs. J. E. Triggs; secretary, Mrs. Stewart Leese and treasurer, Mrs. Roy Brendle.

Council Elects New Officers

The following officers were elected when the Camp Fire Girls Junior High council met on Thursday afternoon: president, Mary Ann Myers; vice president, Lourie Abernethy; secretary, Betty Jeffries; treasurer, Penny Penton and scribe Joanna Rogers. The council is composed of representatives from the fourteen junior high groups.

The first city-wide event is to be a hayrack ride on Wednesday, October 22. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. Don Redenbo. The three groups that will serve as hostesses for the hayrack ride will be groups led by Mrs. K. L. Mourer, Mrs. T. N. Heiselman and Mrs. William Dean.

Bethany Club Anniversary

Members of the Bethany Woman's Club celebrated the group's fortieth anniversary Tuesday afternoon at luncheon held at the Bethany Christian Church. The club colors, gold and Alice blue, predominated in the table decorations, and a program on the history of the club was given by Mrs. J. O. Roland and Mrs. Nettie Sherman, charter members.

Matronettes To Meet Friday

Mrs. Everett Nunn and Mrs. Almon Conover will be the hostesses Friday afternoon to the Matronettes club which will be at the Havelock YWCA at 1:30 o'clock.

The inspirational thought will be given by Mrs. J. G. Wright and Mrs. Ivene Gary will continue her series of talks on how to make nylon corsages.

Nursery care will be provided.

Bethany PTA Holds Coffee

The Bethany P. T. A. will hold a coffee for fourth grade mothers on Thursday morning, at 9:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. All mothers of fourth grade pupils are urged to attend.

Faculty Women Honored At Tea

The University of Nebraska Faculty Women's Club entertained new faculty women and the wives of new faculty members at tea, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. R. G. Gustavson. In the group pictured above, talking with Mrs. Frederick R. Bouldin (at right) who with Capt. Bouldin recently came to Lincoln from Grand Rapids, Mich., are Mrs. Frank Mussehl (left), and Mrs. W. Saski. Prof. Saski, who instructs in the college of pharmacy, and Mrs. Saski came to Lincoln this fall from Missoula, Mont. Capt. Bouldin is a member of the military science department faculty.

Miss Bette Minne Weds Morris Roberts

With only the immediate members of the families attending, the marriage of Miss Bette Minne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Minne, to Morris F. Roberts, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Burnham, was solemnized at a 5 o'clock ceremony the afternoon of Friday, October 3.

The ceremony took place in Aldersgate chapel, Trinity Lutheran church, with the Rev. Theodore Leonard reading the lines before a background of white pom poms and white chrysanthemums. The wedding music was played by Charles W. Tritt, organist.

Miss Jeannette Kleinert, wearing a brown suit, with brown accessories, and carrying a nosegay of gold-toned chrysanthemums, was the maid of honor and only attendant. The candles were lighted by Miss Sandra Gadd who wore a white satin choir robe.

John Burnham served his nephew as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a dressmaker suit in the bronze tone, with amber accessories completing her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper for the families and the bridal party was served at Lone Oak.

After a short honeymoon trip Mr. Roberts and his bride will reside at 1136 South Eleventh street.

Mrs. Roberts is a former student at the University of Nebraska. Mr. Robetrs recently was released from the armed forces.

Just Between Us

—Community Chest budget committee workers usually garner little but complaints from the 27 private welfare agencies whose budgets they examine. It occurred to me that the general public may not be aware of the hours and hours of time and conscientious effort the committee members put in each year.

★

—the 15 members of the committee begin work after June 1 (when all budget requests are in) and meet at least every two weeks throughout the summer, with meetings twice weekly the last month, to discuss, as a group, each budget. Between these meetings the members must become acquainted with the agencies to which they are assigned—by visiting the agency itself, by studying, by meeting with agency heads and boards.

★

—each member of the budget committee serves as chairman for one sub-committee and is a member of two other sub-committees. Appointment to the budget committee is for three years. It is the ideal, but difficult way to become familiar with the work of all the agencies in Lincoln—a real contribution to the community with few bouquets attached.

—a uniform accounting system is used by every agency and monthly progress reports are filed at the Chest office. 60 per cent of the over-all funds are raised by the agencies themselves with 40 per cent supplied by the Community Chest.

★

—and were you aware that $15 million a year is spent for welfare in Lincoln and Lancaster County?

DAC Chapter To Go To York

Members of the Hannah Duston chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, will go to York on Monday for a noon luncheon and meeting at the home of Mrs. I. G. Spurling. New regent of the chapter is Miss Isabel McOmber, who succeeds Miss Laura Smith of Lincoln. Miss Smith will leave soon to make her home at Seattle, Wash.

Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. O. G. Palmer will address the group at the York library.

Making A Speech?

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

You'll never get the chance to take your rightful place in community, club or business affairs unless you can stand on your own feet before others and talk with cogency and assurance. Realizing this, many a capable damsel stays in the background. Stage fright and the conviction that she'd "rather die than face an audience"—even a small one—keep her from making her important contribution.

Do you fall into this category? Rid yourself of such incapacitating emotions now! You can turn into a confident, persuasive speech-maker immediately, just following these points:

1. Organize your talk on paper. Write down in one sentence the topic and your view of it. Then, in logical order, outline the points you want to make.

2. Take another sheet of paper and fill in your outline with everything you wish to say. Temper your phraseology to fit the mood of the occasion—light, businesslike or solemn. An oration, for instance, is not suitable for an informal business meeting or club book review. But don't attempt a funny story unless you are adept at telling one and have a new one. Strike to make your points through concrete examples and word pictures. Keep at it, until you achieve a finish that, as they in the theater, "lays 'em in the aisles."

3. Next, start practicing your delivery. Stand and read your material through—several times, to see whether it is easily "speakable." If you wish, memorize the opening and closing paragraphs to be sure of a forceful beginning and ending. But never memorize anything in between or you will be lost in case you forget one word. You will also sound forced and parrot-like. Do, however, get every point fixed in mind—so surely that you can run through your speech fluidly without notes.

4. While practicing, listen to your voice. Breathe deeply and evenly, taking in air only between phrases or sentences. Increase your volume without raising your pitch; articulate clearly without sounding affected. Monitor your speed between tortoise and hare pace.

5. On the big day, wear simple clothes that you feel comfortable about. Shun fanciness in dress, make-up or hair-do that might make your hearers stare instead of listen.

6. A moment before speaking, take deep breaths, contract your abdominal muscles and stand tall—this will chase nerve pangs. Walk to meet your hearers with assurance, face them with a smile, let your eyes glance over them in friendly greeting and then—have your say! Your pride in your success will make you wonder why people get stage fright, when personal expression can actually be so much fun as well as importantly productive!

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice—one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success—by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mighty Tasty Chops--

Cool weather is with us again, and we are all looking for good, rich, tasty main dishes. Here's a recipe that combines economy with the greatest taste pleasure imaginable. Pork is among our least expensive meats this year, and you can use up the left-over corn bread, too.

Pork Chops With Corn Bread Stuffing

¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup bacon fat or melted butter
4 cups stale corn bread
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
⅛ teaspoon pepper
6 double pork chops, cut for stuffing

Brown onion in fat. Crumble corn bread coarsely and combine with remaining dry ingredients. Add fat and onion and mix carefully. Stuff into pork chops, tie closed (or lace around trussing pins) and bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven, 350°F., 1 hour, turning once. (Add ¼ cup water after both sides are browned, if needed.) Bake excess stuffing in shallow buttered pan. Yield: 6 servings.

Wedding Solemnized

Miss Marilyn Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Peterson of Marquette, became the bride of John L. McEntarffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McEntarffer of Lincoln, at a late afternoon ceremony, Friday, September 26. Pedestal bouquets of salmon-toned gladioli formed the background for the double ring service which took place in the home of the bride's parents at Marquette.

The Rev. O. A. Johnson, minister of the Evangelical Free church of West Monroe, read the lines of the ceremony in the presence of thirty-five guests, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Vaughn Lewis of Chapman, pianist. Mrs. Lewis also accompanied Miss Marilyn Kucera of Lincoln, who sang, "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Beverly Peterson, who wore a daytime frock of gray wool and a shoulder corsage of yellow pompoms. Flower girl was Lenette Mapes, niece of the bride. Serving his brother as best man was Harry E. McEntarffer of Los Angeles, Cal.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silver-blue silk faille with navy accessories. A corsage of salmon-toned glamelias completed her costume.

Mr. and Mrs. McEntarffer left for a short wedding trip following the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, and will make their home in Lincoln where both are employed.

Attending the wedding from Lincoln were Mrs. Frank Truax, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Dorothy Pappas, Gene Thompson and Elmer Zank.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Among the Mail are two letters which you will have the opportunity of reading this morning. One of them is from Mrs. B.—Maybe you have forgotten the problem Mrs. B wrote to us about several days ago. She is the eighty-year-old lady who had the misfortune to have someone us her charge account, in addition to borrowing from a loan company in her and her husband's name. Mrs. B states that I wasn't much comfort to her since I treated her both as a three-year-old and a 'teen-ager—Here is her letter and it includes, also, some advice for Nora—

Dear Minerva: In answer to my letter you misunderstood me. I was not waiting on a corner but in a store and I would not watch a man on a corner. When one stands directly opposite you, you cannot help noticing it.

You wrote about goblins, as if to a three-year-old, and of perky hats as if to a teen ager, but no words of comfort to one over eighty. I doubt very much if they were your words. You wrote as though all those incidents happened years ago; some of them did, but they have continued all these years to watch or follow me. Consider if it was your mother...what then? But it is my mistake...I should not have told of my sorrow, but continued only in prayer.

And to Nora, may I write a few lines. Oh, don't give up your husband, for your sake and also for the children's. I have never yet talked to a person who did not regret it. They say they suffer more now than while living with him. There are thousands of such people not only men but women also. My father died when I was very young, and how I have missed having a father all through life. I had a wonderful Christian mother, but when others would remark about their fathers how I always longed to be able to say something about mine. How much more your children would grieve to be without their father...having his companionship during those important years. Save them the terrible heartaches and tears, Nora. I have known of some who were unfaithful for fifty years but oh, what a terrible sad end was their lot at the last. Daily go to your Bible for strength and comfort, Mrs. B.

I am so sorry, Mrs. B. to have given you the impression I was just brushing off your troubles. I merely wanted you to forget them. You know within your own heart you are innocent of any wrong doing, and as long as you have that consolation I am sure nothing can harm you. I can readily realize that being under constant suspicion can make you self-conscious. Don't be—just remember that people hurt us only when we allow them to hurt us—that those who watch you aren't paying for a roof over your head or food for your mouth. They are just people and you owe them nothing—not even the honor of being somewhat frightened by them. Pleast believe that I did not mean to take your problem lightly, or to make you unhappy.

Dear Minerva, What is the pay off for a married woman who breaks up a married man's home in the later years? The law was good to me...I got the home and money each month. I work some and get along nicely. This woman has a husband and son, and this married man has two daughters. I have separate maintenance, but I hate all men and women that are cheap and low. I know there are some good men and women; thank God for that. Yes, this dirty work goes on a lot. Disgusted.

Thieves Get Turkeys 'Ready For Sale' But Leave Their Feathered Loot Behind

Farmer Lloyd Bevans went out to feed his turkeys at 8 a.m. Wednesday and found them all tied in sacks, "ready for delivery," according to Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp.

However, Bevans did not have any plans to sell or deliver his turkeys, so he telephoned the sheriff.

The turkey thieves, who apparently did not have time to disappear with their feathery loot, had placed two to three turkeys in each of 27 cattle feed sacks.

The majority of the sacks were Raven brand cattle feed from Council Bluffs, Ia.

Bevans' turkey ranch is located one mile east and one mile north of Waverly.

Ez Cools Reynolds In Second

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, Wednesday night knocked out Bernie Reynolds of Cliffside, N. J., in one minute and 40 seconds of the second round of a scheduled 12-round bout.

Charles, weighing 189, felt his opponent out carefully in the first round, sized him up, and put on the finisher with a series of lefts and rights to the chin in the second. Reynolds weighed 187.

Fighting his first bout in his home town in two years, Charles was sharp and in fine condition. He took several heavy body punches in the first round and delivered the same to his 25-year-old opponent.

At the beginning of the second round, Charles came out punching. Reynolds tried to exchange punches, but three quick lefts to the chin, a couple of rights, and another left sent him sprawling.

Charles told reporters before the fight that he was out to stop Reynolds faster than did the present world's heavyweight champion, Rocky Marciano.

Marciano knocked out Reynolds in the third round when they met.

"Now, I want another crack at the title," said Charles. "I think I can take Marciano."

Huskers Boast 343-Yard Per Game Average, Rank Sixth In Total Defense

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers, on the comeback trail after a dismal 1951 season, rank fourth in the nation this week in rushing offense and ninth in total offense, according to statistics prepared by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Coach Bill Glassford's Huskers also rank sixth in total defense and eighth in rushing defense.

Nebraska has given three opponents only 502 yards on 156 plays for an average of 167.7 yards per game. Husker foes have gained only 245 yards in 112 rushes on the ground for an average of 81.7 per contest.

The Cornhuskers, with an average of 343 yards in three games on 222 rushes, are headed only by Tulsa, California and Arizona in rushing. Lone Nebraska foe in the select group is Oklahoma, which ranks eighth with 291.5 yards per game for two games.

In total offense, Nebraska is behind Tulsa, Arizona, West Virginia, Wisconsin, California, Texas Western, George Washington and Georgia Tech. The Husker average for three games is 406 yards. No 1952 opponent of the Cornhuskers is among the top 15 in this group.

In two games, Tulsa has rolled up 966 yards for an average of 483. The Hurricane gallopers are just ahead of Arizona, with a 481.7 average in three contests. Third in total offense is West Virginia with 480 yards average for two games.

Tulsa is tops in rushing offense, with an average of 358 yards per game, compared with California's 357 average for three contests. Arizona trails in rushing mileage with 353 yards, figures of the NCAA Service Bureau showed Wednesday.

In forward passing, Fordham is No. 1 with 265 yards in its single game with Holy Cross. Although beaten, Fordham completed 22 of 44 tosses. Texas Western is secoid with an average of 207.7 in three games.

Although only sixth in yards averaged. Cincinnati is tops in percentage completed, 63.6 per cent. In three games Cincinnati has thrown 55 passes, completed 35 for a total of 541 yards.

The offense leaders based on averages:

Total offense—1. Tulsa, 483; 2. Arizona, 481.7; 3. West Virginia, 480; 4. Wisconsin, 447.5; 5. California, 447.

Rushing offense—1. Tulsa, 358; 2. California, 357; 3. Arizona, 353; 4. Nebraska, 343; 5. West Virginia, 333.5.

Forward passing offense — 1. Fordham, 265; 2. Texas Western, 208.7; 3. Washington, 200; 4. Rice, 197; 5. Texas Christion, 185.3.

Schabacker, Thayer Join Oberlin On Ailing List

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

A WAVE of new injuries Wednesday hampered the Nebraska offensive platoon which now ranks fourth nationally in rushing and ninth in total offense.

Out of a semi-scrimmage with varied ills were End Bill Schabacker, Halfback Bill Thayer, and Centers Verl Scott and Bob Oberlin.

Only Scott, who doubles as a linebackers on defense, looks like he will be available for the Kansas State game Saturday.

With Oberlin out, Scott will problably go both ways.

Schabacker, one of the key reasons Nebraska ranks sixth nationally in total defense and eighth in rushing defense, became ill Wednight night with a virus infection. The extent of his illness will be determined Thursday, Coach Bill Glassford said.

Loss of Schabacker might toss a hitch into the Huskers defensive plans against the Wildcats, described by Glassford as possessing more speed than any of the three previous opponents.

"We were counting on the speed of our ends, especially Schabacker and Dennis Emanuel to turn in their wide stuff," commented the Husker coach.

If Schabacker is out Saturday, he will be replaced by Andy Loehr, Turtle Creek, Pa., sophomore.

Schabacker and Thayer spent Wednesday night in the student infirmary.

Thayer has a leg injury that is also awaiting further diagnosis.

The Huskers drilled Wednesday on pass patterns and also on aerial defenses. All rough stuff was done against defenders wearing blocking aprons.

A sellout audience of 39,000 including 3,500 high school bandsmen in 59 bands, will watch the game Saturday.

Nebraska presently ranks as a 14½ point favorite.

Heavy Workouts Round Local VFW Boxers Into Top Shape

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Staff Member

OCTOBER is generally considered the month to make last minute preparations for the fast approaching winter hibernation.

But one group of Lincolnites is giving no thought to taking it easy until spring. In fact, this hardy band is preparing a warm welcome for Old Man Winter.

Daily workouts are under way for Lincoln's VFW boxing stable, with the present goal a heavy schedule of top-notch winter fight cards.

Under the tutelage of Trainer Juan Baca, the local pugilists have been keeping the Urban League gym popping with the sound of solid rights and lefts hitting light and heavy bags. Rope skipping and calisthenics have also played a large part in Trainer Baca's conditioning plans.

"We have many top prospects and the boys are looking much sharper than last year," reports the ring-wise Baca.

Figuring heavily in the Lincoln pattern for another successful boxing year is a trio of talented veterans.

Topping the list is Bob "Tut" McKee, a Lexington, Nebraska, product who is matriculating at the University of Nebraska. McKee, a popular and crafty fisticuffer, spreadeagled the 1951 middleweight field as he ripped his way through the Golden Gloves regional here and copped the midwest crown in Omaha.

Rounding out the trio are Larry Emery and Al Noble.

Emery was the 1951 regional Olympic welter champ, while Noble waltzed off with similar honors in the heavyweight department, plus regional and midwest Golden Gloves laurels.

In addition to this crew, Baca has 12 other leather-pushers working out.

It's been the rule in late years to have a heavyweight handle the main events in local bouts, but Baca has other plans for the 1952-53 campaign.

"We're going to let the boy who deserves it fight the main event. Whether it's a flyweight or a heavy, you can be sure it'll be a fellow who has earned it," says Baca.

At the present time, McKee has the inside track on the main event post for the first match, even though plans for the opener are incomplete.

As Baca puts it:

"Bob did a tremendous job last year. He was a great crowd-pleaser and he's in better shape this year. He deserves main billing and he's going to get it."

JUST REWARD — Middleweight Bob McKee, a genuine crowd pleaser, will get a main event spot.

Baca's immediate plans call for Emery to fight the semi-windup and Noble the prelim, with some new boys taking over other spots

Workout space is the only major problem confronting the local pugs. With the Urban League's heavy schedule, it's sometimes difficult to arrange a drill period.

"If we can get a place to work out regularly and can get down to the real business, we're going to be awful tough this year," says Baca.

And he has Bob McKee, Larry Emery, Al Noble and 12 other anxious boxers nodding in agreement.

Hallam, Roca Girls Win Lancaster Prep Honors

Hallam and Roca High School girls split honors in the Lancaster County Softball and Baseball tournaments.

Hallam took the softball honors, 9-2, while Roca copped in baseball, 4-3.

TAKE a pulse on the Nebraska football fan at this very moment and you'll find the patient running a temperature.

After three straight victories, the Huskers have outscored the foe, 90 to 13 and have felt few anxious moments.

If the raw promise is there, we'll say that Bill Glassford's hungry young squad still has to prove itself.

Bill Glassford

South Dakota, the first victim, could hardly have won in the Nebraska State College league. Oregon, after losing to the Huskers, had a frantic time beating little Idaho by one touchdown a week later.

Iowa State, crippled through the loss of five linemen, had little except giblets and a pair of uncanny linebackers.

One citizen questioned our saying that Nebraska was "outblocked and outcharged" by the Cyclones. What we said exactly was: "Out charged and outblocked, the Huskers led by only 7-0 at halftime over this blase troupe of football cynics."

For the first two quarters, at least, there was no doubt that the Cyclones were the aggressors. Halftime statistics were nearly even-Stephen, but the Ames gang was drawing the charge.

Not until Nebraska provided assurance with George Cifra's 42-yard gallop and Bob Reynolds' field goal during the second half did this flinger draw an easy breath. The Huskers did outcharge and outblock the wafer-thin Cyclones during the second half—but not during the first.

Glassford himself admitted to the University Club Quarterbacks that the Huskers might have been a bit overconfident at the start.

"They thought they could beat em b, just appearing on the field," he commented.

Another Saturday must pass before the Huskers receive their next big test along the uphill road that marks the last half of the schedule.

Kansas State, miracles not accepted, should be mere batting practice Saturday.

The real test will be a week from Saturday high in the mountains in the middle of Pennsylvania. Penn State, the foe that day, should determine of what fiber these young Huskers are constructed.

FOR the Nittany Lions have showed their mettle in whipping Temple and William and Mary and tying Purdue. All Purdue did Saturday was thump Ohio State, 21-14, so you get a rough idea of Penn State's potency.

Penn State, like Colorado, is doubly hard to whip at home.

Even if Penn State is hurdled, the Huskers face a murderous road in the five final foes. Momentarily, they would rank as underdogs against each of the fearful five—Colorado, Missouri, Kansas, Minnesota and Oklahoma.

Missouri and Minnesota, who face the Huskers at Memorial Stadium, look like the best hopes for victory. Playing Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma on those teams' home gridirons looks like an impossible project.

WE'VE said before, and we'll repeat, that this current gang of Huskers is a hungry crew. They are not to be underestimated. They will go as far as fight and determination will allow and, given a few breaks, that could be all the way.

That "if" depends first on how much the blocking, both in the line and downfield, improves. The attack must gain precision, ball-handling still needs much ironing and a better passing game will be needed.

Glassford has not yet shown any of his intricate offense. The Huskers have depended entirely on the straight T, aimed primarily between the tackles. Hardly any wide stuff or passing in heavy quantity have been tried.

Much more will be known when the Huskers really have to open up. Opening up day, we predict, will be on that Penn State gridiron.

Northeast '11' Hosts Hastings Tigers Tonight

... At Magee Stadium

By JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

The Northeast Rockets, still smarting from the 33-0 licking received at Lincoln High last week, will attempt to get back into the win column again tonight when they play host to the Hastings Tigers at O. N. Magee Stadium. Game time is 7:30.

Besides shooting for their fourth win of the season, the Rockets will be gunning for their third straight Mid-East Conference title, and the Tigers now stand as the chief threat to the Rockets repeating.

Speedster Ron Steele will be the only Rocket missing the tilt. He suffered a bruised kidney and a fractured rib in the intra-city battle. Coach Bun Galloway has selected Bill Fry to fill the vacant right halfback post.

While not boasting an impressive record, the Tigers will field an all-veteran team.

The three Dougherty boys—"Duck," Joe and Jim—form the nucleus of the Tiger eleven. Galloway classed "Duck" as one of the top-ranking fullbacks in the state and a real test for the heavy Rocket line.

Galloway has revamped his starting lineup after last week's drubbing. Slated for the opening call are Norvan Holverson and Dave Tullis at the ends, Don Voils and John Rohrig at the tackles, Paul Leacox and Jack Ryan at the guards, Larry Hennings at center, and Howard Thrapp, Bill Fry, Junior Thomas and Jim Haberlan in the backfield.

Senators Drop Trio

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators Wednesday announced the unconditional release of three ballplayers.

They are Pitchers Tom Ferrick and Joe Haynes and Catcher Clyde Kluttz. Hayns, however, will remain with the team as a pitching coach.

NU B Team, Buena Vista Clash Friday

A 25-man Nebraska "B" team football squad will travel to Storm Lake, Ia., Friday for a game there with Buena Vista College.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Probable starting lineup for the Nubbins, as named by Coach H. H. (Ike) Hanscom:

New to the "B" team lineup is Guard Charlie Bryant, 5-10, 185-pound sophomore from Omaha. Bryant saw action with the Varsity in the South Dakota game.

The Nubbins have played but one game to date, bowing to the Nebraska freshmen, 32 to 0.

Cupid Scores KO Over Chuck Davey

ROCHESTER, Ind. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Abell of Rochester have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, and Charles (Chuck) Davey, Lansing, Mich., welterweight boxer.

Mrs. Abell said Tuesday no date has been set for the wedding. Miss Abell is on leave of absence from Henrotin Hospital, Chicago, where she is a nurse.

Davey, a Michigan State graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davey of Detroit.

Ace Kansas Defensive End Is Hospitalized With Polio

By The Associated Press

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Morris Kay, outstanding defensive end of the Kansas Jayhawks, fell a victim of polio Wednesday and Coach Jules V. Sikes worked desperately in practice during the afternoon to find a capable replacement.

Kay's condition was reported as good at the Watkins Memorial Hospital here. Physicians said that paralysis was "not likely."

The 191-pound, 19-year-old junior from St. John, Kas., entered the hospital Tuesday, but his illness was not diagnosed as polio until Wednesday morning.

Duane Unruh, a veteran end, and Guards Dick Rossman and Joe Fink took turns at working at Kay's end as the Jayhawks prepped for the Big Seven Conference clash with Iowa State at Ames, Saturday. All three boys likely will see action at the terminal.

MANHATTAN, Kas. — Coach Bill Meek worked his Kansas State football team in offensive and defensive scrimmages Wednesday in the roughest practice session of the week.

Meek said End Jack McShulskis, a former West Pointer, and Jack Chilton, quarterback, are still on the injured list and are doubtful starters for the Nebraska game at Lincoln Saturday. Both men worked out in sweat suits Wednesday.

The Wildcats leave for Lincoln by bus Friday noon.

NORMAN, Okla.—The Oklahome Sooners, leaving nothing to anticipation at Dallas Saturday, worked behind closed gates until dark Wednesday in preparation for the annual football classic with Texas.

Coach Bud Wilkinson disclosed he was concentrating on defense. There was no scrimmage and he has no plans for any this week, Wilkinson said.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—The University of Missouri's hopes for outscoring Southern Methodist University when the two teams meet in their intersectional game here Saturday dimmed Wednesday. Bill Rowekamp, crack fullback, is still unable to get into the rough work of preparation for the Mustanges.

Rowekamp suffered a back injury against Kansas State last Saturday, and while it was at first not believed serious, he hasn't been able to practice this week. Coch Don Faurot said, however, he expects Rowekamp to be available for some duty against S.M.U.

The Tigers virtually wound up preparations for the SMU game with an offensive scrimmage Wednesday.

AMES—The Iowa State Cyclones worked to strengthen their injured-weakened defense Wednesday in hopes of slowing Kansas' powerful offense here Saturday.

The game between the two Big Seven Conference schools will be played, Harry Burrell, Iowa State sports publicity director, said.

The Iowa State defense operated against a freshman unit running Kansas plays, while the offense ran against Jayhawk defense.

He Got Mule, She Got The Horse Laugh

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Paul (Tank) Younger, crashing fullback of the Los Angeles Rams, was convicted late Wednesday of a battery charge (resulting from an argument with his mother-in-law when she tabbed him as a "bum football player") and was sentenced to 14 days in jail.

Municipal Judge Joseph L. Call, however, permitted Younger to escape incarceration by granting him probation.

The professional football star admitted he and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Neatheola Olermo, who lives with the Youngers, quarreled when she disparaged his football ability, called him a "heathen" and predicted the Rams would fire him.

Younger admitted "pushing" her when she "tried to hit me on my injured leg and swung a pitcher at my head."

Mrs. Olermo testified that Younger knocked her down twice. She added:

"All I did was throw my Moscow Mule in his face."

The rumpus occurred during the wee hours of Sept. 7.

Doubles Champs Upset

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Bill Talbert of New York and Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, four-time U. S. National doubles champions were upset Wednesday in the Pan American Tennis Tournament by Straight Clark of Los Angeles and Harold Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., 6-4, 12-10, 6-4.

NCAA Faced With Rule Infractions

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The ticklish problem of post season competition, and alleged rules infractions by at least three member schools will be acted on by two key committees of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, when it meets in Chicago Oct. 13-16.

The NCAA Executive Committee and Council will also hear reports on the association's television program, eligibility requirements, boxing rules, playing and practice sessions and amendments to its constitution.

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said the hearings will be final pre-convention preparations for the NCAA's 47th annual meeting which will be held in Washington next January.

The membership committee and its sub-committee on infractions met here last month and discussed seven cases of alleged rules violations. Their report will be presented to the two committees in Chicago. Names of the schools involved have not been made public

CLAWS OF THE TIGER—Three of the top backs on the Doane College squad are (left to right) Bill Best, 5-8 155-pound senior from Omaha; Arland Schultz, 6-foot 176-pound sophomore from Crete, and Don Crowder, a flashy 5-8 165-pound frosh from Exeter. The trio will play important roles in Doane's bid for the Nebraska College Conference crown in 1952, and will do plenty of ball-toting against the Hastings Broncos Saturday night.

St. Cecilia's Nips Alma Eleven, 19-13

Lincoln Star Special

HASTINGS—Jerry Gerhart scored two touchdowns and gave St. Cecilia's of Hastings what turned out to be its winning margin as the Hawks beat Alma, 19-13, in a Class C attraction here Wednesday night.

Gerhart scored on runs of 31 and eight yards, and teammate Frank Gauthier scooted 17 yards for the other St. Cecilia score.

Frank Wentling and Bill Low jaunted 20 and 10 yards, respectively, for the only Cardinal TD's.

Defensively, Joe Gray was the Hawks' key man, while Dave Casper and Stan Dunn made several stops for Alma.

Alma	6	7	0	0	—13
St. Cecilia's	7	6	6	0	—19

Alma scoring: TD—Wentling, Low. PAT—Wentling (plunge).
St. Cecilia's scoring: TD—Gerhart 2, Gauthier. PAT—Jerry Buttell (placement).

President 'Master At Art Of Demagogy' Declares Sen. Taft

By ODELL HANSON

SHENANDOAH, Ia. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft Wednesday described President Truman as a "master at the art of demagogy."

Speaking from a platform which the President had occupied only two hours earlier, the Ohio Republican charged that Mr. Truman "brings forward such a succession of misrepresentations that when you're answering one, three others have been made."

Taft termed Mr. Truman's campaign strategy a "technique of lying," and said the President "drags in bogey men like Wall Street lobbies."

The speech, much of it "off the cuff," was a rapid fire answer to the farm address of the President. Taft listened to the Truman address by radio and drafted his own speech notes during the intervening two hours.

Round of Laughs

Taft got a round of hand claps and laughs when he declared:

"You'd think the New Deal had invented agriculture and invented prosperity."

Taft said Truman's speech appeared to make, in substance, the point that "in 20 years, the American farmer has been raised from a state of peasantry to a state of prosperity."

Then Taft proceeded to contend that the farmer may not be as well off as it would seem, due to higher taxes and inflation, and that what improvement there has been in the status of the farmer, and other Americans, has not been a Democratic party accomplishment.

Taft said farm expenses have gone up and the dollar has dropped in value.

"The whole net result, according to the Department of Agriculture . . .," he said, "is that net farm income in terms of stable dollars has declined from $4,800,000,000, the high point in 1947, to $3,600,000,000 in 1951, a decrease of 21 per cent."

TAFT LISTENS—Sen. Robert Taft checks his speech and takes notes Wednesday at Shenandoah, Ia., as he listens to President Truman's Shenandoah speech on the radio. Taft took the same rostrum later to make a rebuttal. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

Serious Shortage Of Boxcars Seen

A special telegram from the Nebraska State Railway Commission to the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads has warned of a serious boxcar shortage developing in the state.

Richard H. Larson, vice chairman of the commission, said in the message that heavy seasonal demands for boxcars elsewhere, the high quality of wheat this year and early maturity of corn "suggests a dire need for effective car service orders."

However, officials of the Burlington Railroad in Omaha told The Star that the condition this year is not unusual. "We are always short of cars," one said. He added that loadings has been very heavy on lines to the east this season.

Larson's telegram urged the supplying of sufficient cars now to assure orderly marketing for producers. Larson said the car shortage situation "covers the entire state," and the need will reach its peak in about two months.

Living Benefits Top Nebraska's Death Payments

NEW YORK (AP) — More than half of the total life insurance payments to Nebraska families in 1951—53 per cent—went to living policyholders, the Institute of Life Insurance reported.

The total paid to living policyholders was $12,945,000, compared to $11,323,000 in death benefits. The year before the payments to living policy holders totaled $13,417,000.

For the nation as a whole payments by all life insurance companies amounted to $3,984,835,000 in 1951 of which 57 per cent were for living benefits and 43 per cent for death benefits.

Living benefits include matured endowments, disability benefits, annuity payments, cash surrender value paid out and dividends to policy-holders.

Council Approves Garbage Contract

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha City Council has given its approval to a contract with the Omaha Alcohol Plant to handle the city's garbage.

Officials said that as soon as the alcohol plant can accept garbage, dumping of garbage into the Missouri River will stop. There was no indication how soon that would be.

The alcohol plant will grind and dry the garbage converting it into animal feed. Under a contract which will run until Jan. 1, 1954, the city will subsidize the operation at the rate of $2,500 a month.

Omaha resorted to river dumping of garbage when the legislature prohibited feeding it raw to hogs as a means of combatting the hog disease, vesicular exanthema.

There is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

Miami: I just retraced Ike's footsteps through Florida and this is to report that the footprints are still here but fading a little.

☆ ☆ ☆

However, there was a blimp flying over Ft. Pierce with a banner on it reading, "I Like Ike" and nobody shot it down.

☆ ☆ ☆

Adlai is coming through in a couple of days to see if this is as much an off-season for southern Democrats as for northern tourists. . . All I know is that Republicans are advertising their meetings openly.

☆ ☆ ☆

Adlai is coming to Miami from Tampa but he won't take the Tamiami Trail having just learned that no one lives along it except Seminole Indians, who have never made peace with the United States and right now he's shopping only for peaceful citizens who vote right.

☆ ☆ ☆

The original intention has to have Adlai skip Miami and Miami Beach. . . then they told him he could get a room if he would promise to be out by November.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market nosed downward in the final trading-hours Wednesday, after maintaining a steady course earlier.

Several morning gains in the railroad section were erased and the majority of carriers ended in the minus column. Utilities also tilted downward, while industrials concluded narrowly mixed.

Volume climbed sharply to $3,370,000 par value from $2,670,000 Tuesday, despite the large variety of new securities offered.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

Foreign liens slipped nominally.

Soybeans Drop 3c; Cereals Hold Steady

CHICAGO — (AP) Soybeans dropped 2 to 3 cents on the Board of Trade Wednesday, largely because it appeared there would be more cottonseed oil around to compete with soybean oil than had been expected.

For most of the session other cereals held quite steady. At times wheat and corn held small gains as compared with Tuesday's close. But the weakness in soybeans spread to all pits in the final hour and everything ended lower.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1 cent lower, corn ⅝-⅞ lower, oats ¼-½ lower, rye unchanged to ⅛ lower, soybeans 2 to 3 cents lower and lard 15 cent lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Trading was very slow at the start. It picked up speed immediately after the agriculture department's cotton crop estimate came out. The crop was placed at 14,413,000 bales, a significant boost from the 13,889,000 bales estimated a month ago.

There is a very definite tie-in between the cotton and soybean crops. This is because the amount of cottonseed oil produced depends upon the amount of ctotton harvested. Cottonseed oil and soybean oil aid inter-changeable in many consumers products. And the price of soybeans depends largely on the price of soybean oil and soybean meal.

Hedge lifting against small exports—one cargo to Great Britain and one to Ireland—held up corn in early dealings. But this type of support soon dried up. Corn picking has started in some sections of the big Iowa-Illinois producing area.

British Rail Crash Kills 85 Persons

Express Train Hit Commuter Special

HARROW, England (AP) —Two speeding trains piled up with a thunderous roar against a commuters' local at the Harrow station Wednesday and killed 85 persons in a blitz-like scene of blood, wreckage and hissing steam.

At least 170 were injured in the train collision.

Officials said the death toll might climb above 120 in this worst British railway disaster since 227 persons were killed and 246 injured in a collision of two passenger trains and a troop train at Gratna, Scotland, May 15, 1915.

Great Impact

The tremendous impact hurled two big locomotives across the jam-packed station platform, mowing down scores of waiting passengers.

The wreckage erupted into a mound 55 feet high which tore away large sections of an overhead footpath and spilled pedestrians into the cauldron below.

Rescue workers, many of them veterans of wartime air raids, were still digging in the wreckage for survivors and dead eight hours after the crash. Some tore at the twisted, telescoped coaches with their bare hands.

The wreck came at the height of the morning rush hour.

Sudden Shriek

A local train from Tring to London, 11 miles from Harrow, was waiting on Platform 4. Crowds of commuters steadily boarded it. Nearby, men and women waited, chatting or reading newspapers.

Suddenly there was a shriek of the Perth-London express train, running 95 minutes late.

The speeding express crashed into the rear of the waiting local with a grinding, crunching roar, spilling wreckage across an adjoining track.

Moments later, the express from London to Manchester, coming from the opposite direction, barreled into the wreckage.

Coaches smashed into other coaches, slivers of wood and metal sprayed over a wide area. Flying glass sang through the air like shrapnel.

Kefauver Believes Truman Tour Has 'Negative Effect'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, arriving here to speak in behalf of the Democratic presidential ticket, said Wednesday he thought President Truman's whistle stop tour has had a "negative effect" for Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Asked by a newsman if he thought the Truman appearances had any effect on Stevenson's prestige, the Tennessee Democrat said:

"I definitely think that his (Truman's) appearance has had a negative effect. Personally, if I had been the candidate I would not have wanted that type of program."

"However," Kefauver added, "I would say from my own observations that in Montana and Washington the President's remarks probably helped the campaign."

In those two states, President Truman concentrated his criticism on the Republican position on public power.

Ak-Sar-Ben Champ Steer Is Shown By Boys Town Youth

OMAHA (AP)—Ed Coyne of Boys Town Wednesday showed the champion Hereford steer at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock show.

The reserve champion was another Boys Town product, shown by Don Charleboix.

Among 41 Hereford steers to which Judge A. J. Dyer gave purple ribbons, 12 were shown by Boys Town lads.

Winner of the Ak-Sar-Ben Heifer championship was the Angus calf shown by Jim Larkin of Benedict, Neb.

Champion female in the National Hereford Show, picked Wednesday was the junior yearling female, LS Blue Bonnet 285, owned by Roy R. Largent & Sons of Merkel, Tex.

Rodgers Found Guilty Of Simple Assault By District Court Jury

After deliberating two hours and 13 minutes, the jury returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault Wednesday in the case of the State versus Calvin Rodgers, 2000 T, who was on trial on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily injury.

Harley M. Davidson, 1741 Pawnee, was foreman of the jury.

The jury had a choice of three possible verdicts—assault with intent to do great bodily injury, simple assault or not guilty.

Rodgers will have ten days in which to file a motion for a new trial if he wishes to do so. If he does not file such a motion, he will be sentenced at the end of the ten day period. He is free on an appearance bond at the present.

Admitted Shot

Rodgers admitted that he shot Louis Charles Shelman, 1916 U, with a .410 shotgun on the night of March 15. He also admitted that he struck Shelman with the gun after he shot him.

"He'd been messing around with my wife," was Rodgers explanation of the shooting.

Rodgers and his wife had attended a dance that evening. While they were at the dance, Rodgers testified that Shelman threatened to "blow out his (Rodgers') brains."

Continuing his testimony, Rodgers said he and his wife went home after Shelman's threat. Approximately five or ten minutes after their arrival at their home, they heard a noice and saw Shelman on the front porch. Rodgers took the gun, opened the door, and showed Shelman the gun. Shelman ran off down the street and Rodgers fired.

'Wanted To Scare'

"I didn't mean to hit him," Rodgers told the jury. "I just wanted to scare him so he would leave my wife alone."

Rodgers went down the street after the shot was fired. He testified that Shelman charged him, so he struck him with the barrel of the gun.

Shelman said he left the dance because he wished to avoid trouble with Rodgers. He said he was on his way home, by way of an alley behind the Rodgers' residence, when he met Rodgers who fired at him when Shelman started to run away from him. He denied going up to the porch of the defendent's home.

"I fell after the shotgun pellets hit me in the back of the head and neck," Shelman said. He testified that Rodgers hit him with the gun barrel after he fell to the ground.

Shelman was not armed at the time of the shooting, according to the testimony.

The charge of assault is a misdemeanor and carries only a sentence in the County Jail. Assault with intent to do great bodily injury is a felony and carries a penalty of imprisonment in the State Penitentiary.

Lucille Powell To Head Women's Division Group

Lucille Powell was named chairman of the nominating committee for new board members Wednesday night at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division board of directors.

Other members of the committee named at the meeting, which was held at the Chamber building, are Irene Barber, Mary Jo Miles, Grace McCaslin, and Alma Wagner.

Margaret Swanson, chairman of the agriculture committee, outlined plans of an entertainment program to be held for Lancaster County 4-H girls on Nov. 28.

A visitor to Lincoln, Mrs. Renate von Boenninghausen of Wesel, Lackhausen, Germany, founder of the non-partisan German Women's League, was guest of honor at the social hour which followed the meeting. Mrs. Von Boenninghausen is conducting a study of the social, cultural, and organization life of American women.
